New British Architecture:

New British Architecture Jonathan Glancey, 1990      New Architecture in Britain Ken Powell, 2003 Architects increasingly operate on a global scene and just as numerous British architects have proved highly successful at winning projects abroad so architects from Europe the United States and the Far East are making their mark in Britain One thinks for example of Daniel Libeskind's Imperial War Museum and Tadao Ando's new square and pavilion project both in Manchester or of Frank Gehry's Cancer Care Centre in Dundee Well known British practices such as Future Systems Alsop Architects and Nicholas Grimshaw Partners also inevitably feature prominently in the exciting international story of the country's recent architectural renaissance but so too do newer smaller practices including many based outside the capital This book engagingly describes and illustrates over 100 outstanding projects both large and small floor around Britain none completed earlier than 2001 and some still under construction or at planning stage Covering every conceivable building type from houses offices and department stores to theatres heritage sites and museums this book makes a forceful contribution to the continuing debate about the role of architecture in forging a new environment and underpinning the growth of a healthy society

A Short History of British Architecture Simon Jenkins, 2024-11-07 Provocative elegant intriguing Jenkins is a bold imaginative writer brilliant at challenging old assumptions and encouraging you to look at British architecture in a new light Rory Stewart The story of Britain is revealed through its buildings and yet the language of architecture is a mystery to all but a few In this enlightening history spanning castles and cathedrals to factories and railway stations Jenkins translates the hidden narratives infused in the facades we walk past every day Britain's history has been formed by its politics religion and society and these influences can be seen in the architectural styles that have shaped its landscape From pre Roman and the Middle Ages to the Renaissance and the Industrial Revolution Classical and Gothic styles surged and retreated from favour only to then be challenged by a new player Modernism a style that reflected the stunning technological advances of the second half of the twentieth century In this narrative history Simon Jenkins the bestselling champion of our national heritage introduces us to the singular eccentric and sometimes rather ordinary characters who shaped Britain Jenkins teaches readers to see the world anew demystifying the elitist language of architecture so that we can all appreciate the buildings around us

New Directions in British Architecture Royston Landau, 1968      Neue Britische Architektur in Deutschland Michael Jenner, 2000 The close relationship between the British and German architectural scenes developed over two centuries is a showcase for the work of British architects working in Germany This stunning volume published to coincide with the opening in July 2000 of the new British Embassy in Berlin designed by Michael Wilford celebrates the range and excellence of new British architecture in Germany as an ongoing success Since the 18th century British architectural life has been enriched by great German figures such as Prince Albert of Saxe Coburg Gotha the architects Gropius and Mendelsohn and the architectural critic Nikolaus Pevsner British architecture in the fullest sense of the term arrived in Germany in 1977 when the London partnership of Stirling and Wilford won the competition for the new art gallery in Stuttgart This milestone set the scene for British architects and German clients to work together consistently producing a model for international cooperation as well as a series of stunning buildings The British Architect, 1912 British Architect and Northern Engineer, 1879 Metropolis: New British Architecture and the City, 1988 The Kalendar of the Royal Institute of British Architects Royal Institute of British Architects, 1920 Includes list of members in each volume Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects, 1928 A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins, American Historical Association, Royal Historical Society (Great Britain), 1996 Containing over 25 000 entries this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century Accessibly arranged by theme with helpful introductions to each chapter a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index Britain Alan Powers, 2007 Thoroughly illustrated with images of the buildings under discussion advertisements and other historical photographs Britain is an authoritative yet highly accessible account of twentieth century British architecture New British architecture Robert Maxwell, 1972 David Chipperfield David Chipperfield, 2003-06 Everything starts with space To make space is the first motivation the first responsibility the first problem Space gives form space gives plan The plan is not a generator it is a diagram for a spatial idea Reader's Guide to British History David Loades, 2020-12-17 The Reader's Guide to British History is the essential source to secondary material on British history This resource contains over 1 000 A Z entries on the history of Britain from ancient and Roman Britain to the present day Each entry lists 6-12 of the best known books on the subject then discusses those works in an essay of 800 to 1 000 words prepared by an expert in the field The essays provide advice on the range and depth of coverage as well as the emphasis and point of view espoused in each publication Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries New British architecture R. Maxwell, 1972 The Architect & Building News, 1928 New Urban Environments Peter Murray, Mary Anne Stevens, 1998 New Urban Environments features spectacular examples of key urban building types designed by some 50 leading architects and engineers working in Britain and Europe such as Foster and Partners Richard Rogers Partnership and Zaha Hadid The book includes approximately 85 cultural buildings commercial districts transport interchanges educational and environmental centers Each section illustrates key projects with drawings photographs models and or computer renderings and provides an overview of the site's development history A number of comparative projects by non British architects are described in brief putting British architecture in a European context Descriptive texts explain the selection criteria for each project and include reasons for the new development design constraints and a summary of critical comments on the schemes particular attention being paid to the environmental design aspects of the projects

Articulating British Classicism Elizabeth McKellar, 2017-07-05 Whereas the past decades have seen a profound reconsideration of eighteenth century visual culture the architecture of that century has undergone little evaluation Its study unlike that of the early modern period or the twentieth century has continued to use essentially the same methods and ideas over the last fifty years Articulating British Classicism reconsiders the traditional historiography of British eighteenth century architecture as it was shaped after World War II and brings together for the first time a variety of new perspectives on British classicism in the period Drawing on current thinking about the eighteenth century from a range of disciplines the book examines such topics as social and gender identities colonialization and commercialization notions of the rural urban and suburban as well as issues of theory and historiography Canonical constructions of Georgian architecture are explored including current evaluations of the continental intellectual background the relationship with mid seventeenth century Stuart court classicism and the development of the subject in the twentieth century
