Lucifers Hammer:

Lucifer's Hammer Larry Niven, Jerry Pournelle, 1985-05-12 The first satisfying end of the world novel in years an ultimate one massively entertaining Cleveland Plain Dealer The gigantic comet had slammed into Earth forging earthquakes a thousand times too powerful to measure on the Richter scale tidal waves thousands of feet high Cities were turned into oceans oceans turned into steam It was the beginning of a new Ice Age and the end of civilization But for the terrified men and women chance had saved it was also the dawn of a new struggle for survival a struggle more dangerous and challenging than any they had ever known Take your earthquakes waterlogged condominiums swarms of bugs colliding airplanes and flaming what nots wrap them up and they wouldn't match one page of Lucifer's Hammer for sweaty palmed suspense

Retreat Ethel Baraona Pohl, Marina

Otero Verzier, Malkit Shoshan, 2020-07-31 Retreat is a lexicon or inventory of language to describe the action of withdrawal from civic life By creating a spatial approach to the language of escape the publication attempts to widen the definitions of familiar terms such as safety surveillance and self reliance The lexicon draws attention to current global events such as the thread of epidemic disease climate catastrophe the militarization of public space and the impact of mass surveillance on daily life specifically the emotional and social impact of the presence of unknown and potentially life threatening elements The editorial approach for the lexicon is to investigate the notion and practices of retreat its strategies and imaginaries through others words as they inform contemporary spatial paradigms A wide variety of source types from blogs to Wikipedia to academic texts and media photographs films books objects and forms of literary genres are mobilized to create a portrait of retreat that describes not only militarized zones but dreams and anxieties of individuals across the globe helping us better understand how humans might negotiate civil and human rights and freedoms within civic society at large Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract Claire P. Curtis, 2010-07-17 Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract We'll Not Go Home Again provides a framework for our fascination with the apocalyptic events The popular appeal of the end of the world genre is clear in movies novels and television shows Even our political debates over global warming nuclear threats and pandemic disease reflect a concern about the possibility of such events This popular fascination is really a fascination with survival how can we come out alive And what would we do next The end of the world is not about species death but about beginning again This book uses postapocalyptic fiction as a terrain for thinking about the state of nature the hypothetical fiction that is the driving force behind the social contract The first half of the book examines novels that tell the story of the move from the state of nature to civil society through a Hobbesian a Lockean or a Rousseauian lens including Lucifer's Hammer by Larry Niven and Jerry Pournelle Alas Babylon by Pat Frank Malevil by Robert Merle and Into the Forest by Jean Hegland The latter half of the book examines Octavia Butler's postapocalyptic Parable series in which a new kind of social contract emerges one built on the fact of human dependence and vulnerability Lucifer's Hammer Brentwood Communications Group,2003-01-01 Imagining the End James Craig Holte,2019-11-11 Imagining the End provides students and general readers with contextualized examples of how the apocalypse has been imagined across all mediums of American popular culture Detailed entries analyze the development influence and enjoyment of end times narratives Imagining the End provides a contextual overview and individual description and analysis of the wide range of depictions of the end of the world that have appeared in American popular culture American writers filmmakers television producers and game developers inundated the culture with hundreds of imagined apocalyptic scenarios influenced by the Biblical Book of Revelation the advent of the end of the second millennium 2000 CE or predictions of catastrophic events such as nuclear war climate change and the spread of AIDS From being raptured to surviving the zombie apocalypse readers and viewers have been left with an almost endless sequence of disasters to experience Imagining the End examines this phenomenon and provides a context for understanding and perhaps appreciating the end of the world This title is composed of alphabetized entries covering all topics related to the end times covering popular culture mediums such as comic books literature films and music Luzifers Hammer (Lucifer's hammer, dt.)
