Opera On Screen:

Opera on Screen Marcia J. Citron, Professor Marcia J Citron, 2000-01-01 The author draws on ideas from diverse fields including media studies and gender studies to examine issues ranging from the relationship between sound and image to the place of the viewer in relation to the spectacle. As she raises questions about divisions between high art and popular art and about the tensions between live and reproduced art forms, Citron reveals how screen treatments reinforce opera's vitality in a media intensive age.

BOOK JACKET Encyclopedia of Opera on Screen Ken Wlaschin, 2004 This wondrous encyclopedia is an invaluable boon to all movie and opera buffs. I shall be referring to it frequently to slake my curiosity and to settle bets. Tom Lehrer This bountiful book is a comprehensive guide to the thousands of films, DVDs and videocassettes featuring operas and opera singers from 1896 to the present. From ABC Television to Franco Zeffirelli the encyclopedia is a storehouse of fascinating information for film and opera aficionados and casual browsers alike. Find answers to such questions as: What were the first operas filmed? Why did they make silent films of operas? Why was a pseudo opera written for Citizen Kane? What was the title of Maria Callas's only film? Organized alphabetically with more than 1,900 fully cross-referenced entries, the book casts a wide net that covers not only expected topics (operas, operettas, zarzuelas, composers, singers, conductors, writers and film directors) but also the unexpected and offbeat (animated opera, first operas on film, puppet opera, films silent films about opera, and many other lesser-known topics). Encyclopedia of Opera on Screen illuminates the many intersections between opera and film as never before.

Gian Carlo Menotti on Screen Ken Wlaschin, 1999 As the creator of the first television opera, Amahl and the Night Visitors, Menotti went on to win two Pulitzer Prizes for Broadway operas and found the Spoleto Festivals. The American Film Institute's director of creative affairs supplies the production history, plot synopses and photos for the 21 operas and stage works to date, as well as discussing Menotti as a director and his major collaborators. Attard,2022-06-16 Since 2006 leading opera companies have beamed their shows to thousands of cinema screens all over the world live Opera cinema is the most successful marriage of this elaborate esoteric art form and the silver screen In the twenty first century more people watch opera on cinema screens than the stage But what is different about watching Massenet at the multiplex compared to a traditional stage performance Is opera cinema a new hybrid art form in its own right or merely a new way of engaging with an old one Is it bringing new opera fans into the fold Is there a danger it could one day eclipse the stage altogether This book deals with these questions by charting the history of opera transmissions exploring how digital media changes our relationship with culture and inviting a group of opera virgins to give their impressions on this developing cultural experience A Guide to Modern Opera Esther Singleton,1909 Opera George

Henry Hubert Lascelles Earl of Harewood,1980 The Tales of Hoffmann William Germano,2017-10-07 The Tales of Hoffmann 1951 is a unique and important film both in the history of British cinema and in the history of interdisciplinary art making It is the first full throttle presentation of an opera on screen a Technicolor exploration of romance fantasy and failure more danced than sung Gian Carlo Menotti on Screen Ken Wlaschin,1999 As the creator of the first television opera
