B'nai B'rith Magazine, 1924      Cultural Values and Human Ecology in Southeast Asia Karl Hutterer, A. Rambo, A. Terry Rambo, George Lovelace, 2020-08-06 Ecologists have long based their conceptual frameworks in the natural sciences Recently however they have acknowledged that ecosystems cannot be understood without taking into account human interventions that may have taken place for thousands of years And for their part social scientists have recognized that human behavior must be understood in the environment in which it is acted out Researchers have thus begun to develop the area of human ecology Yet human ecology needs suitable conceptual frameworks to tie the human and natural together In response Cultural Values and Human Ecology uses the framework of cultural values to collect a set of highly diverse contributions to the field of human ecology Values represent an important and essential aspect of the intellectual organization of a society integrated into and ordained by the over arching cosmological system and constituting the meaningful basis for action in terms of concreteness and abstraction of content as well as mutability and permanence Because of this balance values lend themselves to the kinds of analyses of ecological relationships conducted here those that demand a reasonable amount of specificity as well as historical stability The contributions to Cultural Values and Human Ecology are exceedingly diverse They include abstract theoretical discussions and specific case studies ranging across the landscape of Southeast Asia from the islands to southern China They deal with hunting gathering populations as well as peasants operating within contemporary nation states and they are the work of natural scientists social scientists and humanists of Western and Asian origin Diversity in the backgrounds of the authors contributes most to the varied approaches to the theme of this volume because differences in cultural background and academic tradition will lead to different research interests and to differences in the empirical approaches chosen to pursue given problems The Bookman ,1915

Depression Through A Biblical Lens Dr. Jim Halla,2014-09-18 People with bad feelings and feeling directed behavior anger fear worry depression usually are given a psychiatric label Initially I was comfortable with that approach but I have come to realize that people must be evaluated based on a proper understanding of the Bible When that happens the whole person thinking wanting and doing will be considered not just outward behavior and feelings Feelings their generation and the person s response to them will not be the major criteria for some label or the target for treatment medical and otherwise Rather thinking and wanting that leads to bad feelings will be the target of the Christian helper friend pastor counselor and physician Thinking wanting and doing thereby feelings will be evaluated using the filter of biblical truth The truth sets people free as they apply it to their situation with the goal of pleasing God Biblically controlled thinking and wanting will replace sinful thoughts and desires Biblically controlled actions will follow Turning the patient to the root and heart of the issue his thinking and wanting and his relationship with Christ is the first step in helping the person get victory in his problems not necessarily out of them Victory God s way won t come until we view all feeling states and man from a biblical perspective
