Mission To Iran:

Mission for Peace William E. Warne, 1956 Twelve year old Esther Atoolik tells of the last winter her people spent on King Island Alaska in the early 1960 s     Mission to Iran. [Mit Kt. -Skizze.] (1. Ed.) William Healy Sullivan, 1981     Mission to Iran William H. Sullivan, 1981-11 This book reports the dramatic experiences of the last American ambassador to Iran during the revolution of 1978-79. It is an account of the events, the personalities and the institutions in Iran as seen through the eyes of the man who at the time was the senior U.S. Foreign Service career officer on active duty. It is also a story of the policy failures of the Carter administration as viewed from the American Embassy in Tehran     Mission to Tehran Robert E.

Huyser, 1986 General Robert E. Dutch Huyser blev i januar 1989 af præsident Carter sendt til Teheran Iran i et forsøg på at sidste jegblik at varetage amerikanske interesser efter den flygtede iranske Shah I dagbogsform fortæller generalen om sit ene mands føltetog på dette prekære område i perioden 4. januar til 11. februar 1979. Det tidspunkt da Ayatollah Khomeini vendte tilbage til Iran

U.S. Operations Mission in Iran, 1950-1961, 2020 This collection is a record of the U.S. Operations Mission's experiences in Iran. In it are outlined the programs that were initiated, the problems encountered and the results of the 11 year effort. The program of technical cooperation in Iran was frequently cited as an example of the ideal Point Four program. The overthrow of the established government led naturally to questions concerning the failure of American technical assistance in that country. Three kinds of aid were provided. United States technicians advised or worked with the Iranian Government supplies and equipment were provided for demonstration purposes and Iranian personnel were sent to the United States or third countries for observation or training programs. The bulk of assistance was directed towards improving agricultural methods but much also was achieved in such areas as preventive medicine, education and administrative improvement

The Guts to Try James H. Kyle, 1994-09     Iran's Military Forces and Warfighting Capabilities

Anthony H. Cordesman, Martin Kleiber, 2007-09-30 Nations around the world are uncertain and anxious about Iran's intentions in the Middle East and the wider global arena. Its current president, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, has made no secret of his opposition to Western society, particularly Israel, and his desire to acquire nuclear weapons. However, as Anthony H. Cordesman and Martin Kleiber point out, Ahmadinejad does not necessarily speak for the Iranian clerical regime, who operate in a cloud of secrecy and also directly control Iran's military. Given the ambiguous nature of Iran's global objectives, this new study focuses on the tangible aspects of Iran's military forces and takes an objective look at the realistic threats that Iran poses to the region and the world. The authors systematically assess each aspect of Iranian military forces, from their conventional armies to their asymmetric threat via proxy wars in the region. Much attention in national security debates is paid to Iran's intentions without first understanding its capabilities. Lacking such a fundamental understanding, much of this speculation tends to be wasted and irrelevant to what could actually happen in the event of a conflict. Cordesman and Kleiber's study provides in meticulous detail a basis for understanding the realistic threat that Iran poses to the Northern Gulf.
