Missionary Life And Work:

Encountering Missionary Life and Work (Encountering Mission) Tom Steffen, Lois McKinney Douglas, 2008-06-01 This new volume in the award winning Encountering Mission series is for current and future missionaries. It provides practical guidance regarding getting ready for the mission field and the realities of life on the field. The authors are well qualified to write such a manual each having served as a missionary for more than twenty years and each having taught missions in seminary. The authors begin by examining the contemporary context for missions including the recognition that the world's mission fields are in constant and often rapid change. They then discuss aspects of preparing oneself for the mission field beginning with home front preparations and moving to on the field preparations. The final section deals with practical issues and challenges of missionary life.

A Missionary Heart And A Missionary Life Zacharias Tanee Fomum, 2014-12-27

In the New Hebrides John Inglis, 2015-07-19 Excerpt from In the New Hebrides Reminiscences of Missionary Life and Work Especially on the Island of Aneityum From 1850 Till 1877 The literature connected with the New Hebrides is somewhat copious. We may pass over the Memorial of Mendana to the King of Spain which has been often quoted more or less fully. The portion of Captain Cook's Voyages referring to the New Hebrides published more than a century ago is written in all the clear, graphic and truthful style of the great navigator. When in 1850 I first sailed along the group I read Cook's narrative in the large edition of his Voyages and the accounts seemed as fresh and truth like as if they had been written only a twelvemonth before. Captain now Admiral Erskine's admirable Journal refers only briefly to the New Hebrides; it has reference chiefly to the eastern islands. The second volume of the Rev. William Gill's fascinating work entitled Gems from the Coral Islands contains some interesting details of mission work on the New Hebrides.
