Pacific Navigators:

The Voyaging Stars David Lewis, 1978 During this childhood in Rarotonga David Lewis was enthralled by the ancient Polynesian voyaging sagas and tale of fabled voyages like the legendary Kupe reputed discoverer of New Zealand Many years later having achieved a considerable reputation as a yachtsman and navigator and still fascinated by natural navigation he set out to discover what could be learned of their ancient arts Book cover The Pacific Navigators Oliver E. Allen, Lindsey Allen, 1980-11-01

The Pacific Navigators Oliver E. Allen, Time-Life Books, 1980 Describes the exploration of the Pacific Ocean by Europeans from the 16th through the 18th century We, the Navigators David Lewis, 1994-05 This new edition includes a discussion of theories about traditional methods of navigation developed during recent decades the story of the renaissance of star navigation throughout the Pacific and material about navigation systems in Indonesia Siberia and the Indian Ocean

Who's Who in Pacific Navigation John Dunmore, 2019-09-30 More than four centuries have passed since Europeans first set eyes on the Pacific that vast ocean about which earlier generations had theorized and fantasized They soon ventured forth in search of undiscovered lands unknown peoples and imagined riches Eventually the Pacific came to reflect the rivalries of Europe as Spanish explorers were followed by the Dutch the English and the French and then by traders and colonizers Now for the first time collected in a single convenient reference volume readers will be able to find details of the lives and achievements of those who took part in this great era of exploration This biographical dictionary includes the major figures of the voyages of exploration as well as missionaries traders whalers naturalists and others who by accident or design contributed to European discovery in the Pacific between the sixteenth and early twentieth centuries

Scholars and others interested in this era will be able to identify easily and promptly the people they come across in their reading situate them in their proper context and gain an idea of their background travels and achievements John Dunmore has scrutinized a wealth of primary and secondary sources to amass the information collected here Some biographies are lengthy noted individuals like Cook have spawned a massive bibliography while others reflect the sparsity of the historical record Who's Who in Pacific Navigation includes a detailed bibliography organized by country to aid those wishing to delve further into any subject The comprehensive index makes the information in the volume easily accessible

Sea People Christina Thompson, 2020-02-24 Wonderfully researched and beautifully written Philip Hoare author of Leviathan Succeeds in conjuring a lost world Dava Sobel author of Longitude Fascinating and satisfying Simon Winchester author of The Map that Changed the World For more than a millennium Polynesians have occupied the remotest islands in the Pacific Ocean a vast triangle stretching from Hawaii to New Zealand to Easter Island Until the arrival of European explorers they were the only people to have ever lived there Both the most closely related and the most widely dispersed people in the world before the era of mass migration Polynesians can trace their roots to a group of epic voyagers who ventured out into the unknown in one of the greatest adventures in human history How did the earliest Polynesians find and colonise these far flung islands

How did a people without writing or metal tools conquer the largest ocean in the world This conundrum which came to be known as the Problem of Polynesian Origins emerged in the eighteenth century as one of the great geographical mysteries of mankind For Christina Thompson this mystery is personal her Maori husband and their sons descend directly from these ancient navigators In Sea People Thompson explores the fascinating story of these ancestors as well as those of the many sailors linguists archaeologists folklorists biologists and geographers who have puzzled over this history for three hundred years A masterful mix of history geography anthropology and the science of navigation Sea People is a vivid tour of one of the most captivating regions in the world s find and colonise these far flung islands How did a people without writing or metal tools conquer the largest ocean in the world This conundrum which came to be known as the Problem of Polynesian Origins emerged in the eighteenth century as one of the great geographical mysteries of mankind For Christina Thompson this mystery is personal her Maori husband and their sons descend directly from these ancient navigators In Sea People Thompson explores the fascinating story of these ancestors as well as those of the many sailors linguists archaeologists folklorists biologists and geographers who have puzzled over this history for three hundred years A masterful mix of history geography anthropology and the science of navigation Sea People is a vivid tour of one of the most captivating regions in the world

The Stolen Gift David G. Stone, The Explosive Expos That Will Change How You See Scientific Progress Forever What if the greatest breakthroughs in human history weren t breakthroughs at all but thefts Behind every discovery that changed the world lies an uncomfortable truth someone knew it first Indigenous communities traditional healers and ancient cultures developed the knowledge that built modern medicine agriculture technology and industry only to watch as others claimed credit filed patents and built fortunes on their stolen wisdom Discover the shocking truth behind How pharmaceutical giants built billion dollar empires on traditional plant medicines The theft of agricultural knowledge that feeds the world today Ancient engineering secrets rebranded as modern innovation Traditional healing practices commercialized without consent or compensation The ongoing appropriation of indigenous knowledge in the digital age Legal battles over who owns thousands of years of cultural wisdom Real world impacts on communities whose gifts were stolen Why this pattern of exploitation continues in labs and boardrooms today The Stolen Gift takes you inside the most systematic theft in human history the appropriation of traditional knowledge by Western science and industry From the Amazon rainforest to Himalayan monasteries from African healing traditions to Pacific Island navigation techniques this groundbreaking investigation reveals how indigenous wisdom became corporate property But this isn t just about historical injustice Every day algorithms steal traditional patterns pharmaceutical companies claim patents on ancient remedies and wellness industries profit from spiritual practices developed over millennia The theft continues hidden behind scientific jargon and corporate PR campaigns Yet this is also a story of remarkable resistance Indigenous communities are fighting back with lawsuits advocacy and innovative protection strategies Traditional knowledge keepers are demanding recognition

And a new generation of ethical scientists is working to create fair partnerships that honor source communities while advancing human knowledge Through meticulously researched case studies shocking revelations and inspiring stories of cultural reclamation The Stolen Gift exposes how science and industry have systematically exploited traditional knowledge and what we can do to build a more ethical future Perfect for readers of The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks Braiding Sweetgrass and anyone who believes that credit should go where credit is due This is the book that will make you question everything you thought you knew about innovation progress and who really deserves recognition for the knowledge that shapes our world Warning After reading this book you'll never look at scientific breakthroughs the same way again A Directory for the Navigation of the North Pacific Ocean Alexander George Findlay,1870 A Directory for the Navigation of the South Pacific Ocean Alexander George Findlay,1877 A Directory for the Navigation of the South Pacific Ocean

Conquering The Pacific Andrés Reséndez,2021-09-14 The true story of a colorful and momentous 16th century voyage and of the Black mariner whose accomplishment was almost lost to history It was a voyage of epic scope In a Spanish plot to break Portugal's trade monopoly with the fabled Orient four ships set sail from a hidden Mexican port The smallest of them was guided by Black seaman Lope Martín one of the most qualified pilots of the era Mutiny murderous encounters with Pacific islanders and extreme physical hardships followed and at last a triumphant return to the New World But the pilot of the fleet's flagship the Augustine friar Andrés de Urdaneta also achieved the Vuelta while Martín was sentenced to be hanged by the Spanish crown as repayment for his services Acclaimed historian Andrés Reséndez delivers a rip-roaring maritime adventure Publishers Weekly starred review making the riveting case for Martín as the scandalously overlooked Columbus of the Pacific Praise for Conquering the Pacific A pacey account of triumph of seamanship over wind and water Wall Street Journal A masterwork of narrative and conception Reséndez magically transforms dogged archival research into a sweeping vision of the past Greg Grandin Pulitzer Prize winning author of The End of the Myth and Empire's Workshop Reséndez makes the details fascinating and compelling Readers of sailing and adventure stories will find this true account both enlightening and exciting Booklist starred review    Forty Years on the Pacific ,1920 This is a reproduction of the original artefact Generally these books are created from careful scans of the original This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended Since the original versions are generally quite old there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions We're happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy    Stewart's Hand Book of the Pacific Islands ,1922    An Illustrated History of Central Oregon ,1905
