What Trouble I Have Seen David Peterson del Mar, 2009-07-01 It was 1869 and Sarah Moses with a very black eye told her father The world will never know what trouble I have seen What she'd seen was violence at the hands of her husband Does the world know any more of such things today than it did in Sarah's time Sarah it so happens lived in Oregon that Edenic state on the Pacific Coast and it is here that David Peterson del Mar centers his history of violence against wives What causes such violence Has it changed over time How does it relate to the state of society as a whole And how have women tried to stop it resist it escape it These are the questions Peterson del Mar pursues and the answers he finds are as fascinating as they are disturbing Thousands of thickly documented divorce cases from the Oregon circuit courts let us listen to voices who often go unheard These are the people who didn't keep diaries or leave autobiographies who sometimes could not write at all Here they speak of a society that quietly condoned wife beating until the spread of an ethos of self restraint in the late nineteenth century And then Peterson del Mar finds the practice increased with a vengeance with the florescence of expressive individualism during the twentieth century What Trouble I Have Seen also traces a dramatic shift in wives response to their husbands violence Settler and Native American women commonly fought abusive mates Most wives of the late nineteenth century acted more cautiously and relied on others for protection But twentieth century privatism Peterson del Mar discovers often isolated modern wives from family and neighbors casting abused women on the mercy of the police women's shelters and most important their own resources Thus a new emphasis on self determination even as it stimulated violence among men enhanced the ability of women to resist and escape violent husbands The first sustained history of violence toward wives What Trouble I Have Seen offers remarkable testimony to the impact of social trends on the most private arrangements and the resilience of women subject to a seemingly timeless crime Wood Works Charles Erskine Scott Wood, Edwin Bingham, Tim Barnes, 1997 This first anthology of Wood's writings reintroduces a major figure in the literature and history of the American West Selections range from Wood's famous rendering of Chief Joseph's surrender speech to satirical dialogues from his best known work Heavenly Discourse Reading Portland John Trombold, Peter Donahue, 2017-08-24 Reading Portland is a literary exploration of the city's past and present In over eighty selections Portland is revealed through histories memoirs autobiographies short stories novels and news reports This single volume gives voice to women and men the colonizers and the colonized white Hispanic African American Asian American and Indian storytellers and lower middle and upper classes In his introduction John Trombold considers the history of writing about a place that has nourished a provocative and errant literary tradition for over 150 years In the preface Peter Donahue considers the influence of region particularly Portland s urbanity and its hybrid population on literature Included here are the voices of Carl Abbott Kathryn Hall Bogle Beverly Cleary Robin Cody Lawson Fusao Inada Rudyard Kipling Ursula K Le Guin Joaquin Miller Sandy Polishuk Gary Snyder Kim Stafford Elizabeth Woody and many more Oregon Historical Quarterly Oregon Historical Society,1990 Guide to Reprints ,2005 The Collected Poems of Hazel Hall Hazel Hall,2000 Together they reintroduce an immediate and intensely honest voice one that speaks to us with an edgy modernity Hall s writings her mirror trained on the world convey the dark undertones of the lives of working women in the early twentieth century while bringing into focus her own private reclusive life her limited mobility her isolation and loneliness her gifts with needlework and words and her exquisite grief BOOK JACKET Guide to Reprints Albert James Diaz,2001 Books in Print ,1991 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1990 The Prairie Keepers Marcy Cottrell Houle,2007 In the remote northeast corner of Oregon lies the ruggedly beautiful Zumwalt Prairie A wild expanse of untilled ground covering nearly two hundred square miles the Zumwalt is almost entirely managed by cattle ranchers It also is home to one of the highest concentrations of hawks in North America including red tailed ferruginous and Swainson s hawks Strong and beautiful these buteo hawks usually depend on uncultivated unpeopled prairies Marcy Houle a wildlife biologist and student first went to the Zumwalt in 1979 to discover what attracts and sustains the buteos there in such startling abundance Houle explores the vast prairie on foot and horseback and by truck cataloging its hawks studying its complex ecosystem and meeting its people Fueled by her youth her spirit her humor and in part by her naiveté she bands birds outruns a bull climbs into nests and pulls together the factious community of ranchers towns people and government employees Her findings eloquently reported show that ranchers and grazing and wildlife not only can coexist but in some instances must coexist if we are to save the last of the native prairies In an epilogue to this new edition Houle returns to the Zumwalt to look at how the prairie is faring two decades later The American West is undergoing tremendous change and a historic way of life is fighting for survival But Houle finds reason for hope in the Zumwalt in the hawks and ranchers that are still there and also in creative new partnerships For example the Nature Conservancy bought 42 square miles of the grassland in 2000 with a plan to encourage sustainable cattle grazing and let ranchers play a role in the stewardship of the land This and other strategies are important to explore Houle reminds us if the ranchers and wildlife of the Zumwalt are to persist and the prairie to endure Illu Kay Atwood,2002 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Economical Geology of Illinois Illinois.
