Gringo Justice Alfredo Mirandé,1994-03-25 Gringo Justice is a seminal work that will no doubt prompt further discussion and investigation Mirand s primary point of contention is that Anglo American courts police the media and the social sciences have presented negative images of Chicano society particularly its barrio youth through the use of a subtle but powerful technique called the mobilization of bias The technique directs the emphasis away from the exploitation and subordination of the Chicano toward the problems and inadequacies of the barrio by portraying Chicanos as violent and criminal The end result is a double standard of justice in which one system is applied to Anglo American society another to Chicano When Chicanos internalize the negative images and begin to blame themselves and their culture for their subordination the mobilization of bias has come full circle Mirand s treatment of the technique of mobilization of bias and the role of the gangs in Chicano society and his ideas concerning theoretical perspectives for studying the Chicano are both provocative and compelling Journal of American Ethnic History Mexican Americans Frank Pino,1974 A Comparison of Mexican Americans and Non-Hispanic Whites in Higher Education in the Southwest Majel Dominguez,1981 Mexican Americans Lois B.
