In metropolitan areas across the United States city and suburban public school students receive grossly unequal funding Since funding is critical to student success this means the primarily Black Latinx and low income students attending city schools are being denied an equal education So entrenched is this system that it can feel normal or too big to undo Yet recent student activism in the form of an innovative cross community school partnership offers new hope The Metropolitan Community Partnering for Equality Across the Educational Divide tells the story of two Chicago area schools one suburban one urban whose students come together to examine the disparities between their schools and advocate for change It follows these students over a year as they meet tour each other s schools wrestle with how to discuss unfairness and ultimately commit to fighting together for a more equal education In depth interviews and detailed observations chronicle the students advocacy which unfolds in conversation with teachers and administrators and eventually brings them to the table with legislators from whom they demand better policies Through the examples set by students readers are invited to develop their own metro outlook to see how our seemingly separate worlds are connected by the educational system we hold in common and must work together to reshape The first book to depict sustained allyship between city and suburban students The Metropolitan Community offers an invigorating pedagogical approach organizational model and political strategy for achieving educational justice through youth led partnerships and collaboration Perfect for courses such as School and Society Curriculum and Instruction Diversity and Equity in Education Socio cultural Foundations Educational Policy Culturally Relevant Pedagogy Sociology of Education Urban Education Social Studies Methods Multicultural Education Anthropology of Education School Counseling School Psychology and School Social Work      Suburban Landscapes Paul H. Mattingly, 2003-04-01 Certificate of Commendation from the American Association for State and Local History Most Americans today live in the suburbs Yet suburban voices remain largely unheard in sociological and cultural studies of these same communities In Suburban Landscapes Culture and Politics in a New York Metropolitan Community Paul Mattingly provides a new model for understanding suburban development through his narrative history of Leonia New Jersey an early commuter suburb of New York City Although Leonia is a relatively small suburb a study of this kind has national significance because most of America s suburbs began as rural communities with histories that predated the arrival of commuters and real estate developers Examining the dynamics of community cultural formation Mattingly contests the prevailing urban and suburban dichotomy In doing so he offers a respite from journalistic cliches and scholarly bias about the American suburb providing instead an insightful nuanced look at the integrative history of a region Mattingly examines Leonia s politics and culture through three eras of growth and change 1859-94 1894-1920 and 1920-60 A major part of Leonia s history Mattingly reveals was its role as an attractive community for artists and writers many contributors to national magazines who created a suburban aesthetic The work done by generations of Leonias artists provides an important vantage and a wonderful set of tools for exploring evolving notions of suburban culture and landscape which have broad implications and applications Oral histories census records and the extensive work of Leonia s many artists and writers come together to trace not only the community s socially diverse history but to show how residents viewed the growth and transformation of Leonia as well
