Nurse In Arabia:

Behind the Veil Lydia Laube, 2010-06 Lydia Laube worked as a nurse in Saudi Arabia in a society that does not allow women to drive vote or speak to a man alone Wearing head to toe coverings in stifling heat and battling administrative apathy Lydia Laube kept her sanity and got her passport back

Choosing to Become a Nurse in Saudi Arabia and the Lived Experience of New Graduates Mohammed Alboliteeh, 2015 Saudi Arabia has undergone rapid social and economic change in recent years As one of the largest employers in the country these changes have had a significant impact on the healthcare sector in particular on the nursing workforce In the past Saudi Arabia relied almost exclusively upon expatriate nurses to meet the healthcare needs of its growing population However an increase in the Saudi population high levels of Saudi unemployment and a desire to redress the country's reliance on an expatriate workforce led the Saudi government to implement a Saudisation program an initiative to recruit train and employ Saudi nationals throughout the workforce As a result approximately 50% of nurses are now of Saudi nationality This research is a mixed methods study A quantitative study was undertaken to gain a description of the Saudi nursing workforce in Riyadh city in particular their motivations views of the profession and future plans The initial aim of the quantitative study was to ascertain why high numbers of Saudi males were entering the nursing workforce in Saudi Arabia however female nurses were also surveyed in order to understand if there was a relationship between gender and motivations to undertake nursing views of the profession and future plans In this component of the study a self administered survey was distributed to all Saudi nurses working as registered nurses in Ministry of Health MOH hospitals in Riyadh The results indicated that the Saudi Arabia nurses surveyed were young and inexperienced with a mean age of 27 years and with 80% having less than five years experience in the nursing field Other important issues emerged in this study such as the nurses desire for educational and professional development poor working conditions in the sector the low social status of the profession difficulties associated with working in a mixed gender environment and cultural and communication problems Significantly just below half of all respondents intended leaving the profession This study offers important insights into a segment of the Saudi nursing workforce which has not been the subject of intensive study This new emerging nursing workforce is making a mark on the Saudi healthcare sector In order to prevent attrition in the nursing field Saudi nurses need to be provided with appropriate education training respect and working conditions This study offers important recommendations and insights for the future of Saudi nursing

Behind the Veil in Persia and Turkish Arabia M. E. Hume-Griffith, 1909

Behind the Veil in Persia and Turkish Arabia An Account of an Englishwoman's Eight Years Residence Amongst the Women of the East is an account by Mary Hume Griffith the wife of Dr Albert Hume Griffith a British medical missionary of living and working in Persia Iran and the Turkish province of Mosul in present day northern Iraq in the years 1900-1908. While her husband was engaged in medical work, Mary Hume Griffith spent much time in the company of women whose culture behind closed doors in andarun women's quarters she generally describes with sensitivity. Her intention is to give some account of the inner life of the East. The book's principal interest is in the entrance she enjoyed to the households of various social classes. The Hume Griffiths spent three years in the Iranian cities of Kerman, Isfahan, and Yazd, to which Mrs. Hume Griffith devotes several chapters that cover such diverse topics as local folklore, advice on buying carpets, and the handling of servants. Throughout the work she offers descriptions of and comments on the condition of women. For all her access to the andarun, the author is decorously silent on most matters relating to marriage and on the topics of childbirth and child care. She does, however, decry the insecure status of the wives. She pays significant attention to the religious and ethnic minorities in Iran and northern Iraq, devoting chapters to the Bahá'ís, Parsees, Yazidis, Jews, Kurds, and Christians of various denominations. The chapters on public health and medical treatment are by Albert Hume Griffith, based on his experiences as a medical missionary. The book is well illustrated with photographs by colleagues or from the files of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, the London-based organization that sponsored the mission.

A Nurse's Life in War and Peace Eleanor Constance Laurence, 1912. PREFACE. The charm of these letters, it will at once be found, depends upon their simplicity, their artlessness, their obvious candour. They present a plain, untinted account of a nurse's career, of the difficulties she has to face and the problems she has to solve. Those who wish to know something of a nurse's life and times will find in this writing a convincing narrative, unemotional and matter of fact. This is no small merit, since the record of nursing experiences is apt to be blurred by exaggeration or made nauseous by sickly romance. There is pathos enough in the sick room and in the presence of death, but those who come in touch with it would do better to hush the knowledge in their hearts rather than to proclaim it on the house-tops. Apart from this, the world must be a little weary of the astute sick child who lisps melodrama into the ear of the kind nurse, as well as of the bizarre aphorisms of the dying tramp.
