Metropolitan Management The Asian Experience:

Metropolitan Management Kallidaikurichi Chidambarakrishnan Sivaramakrishnan, Leslie Green, 1986 This book discusses the needs for adaptable network structures rather than hierarchical structures stronger financial resources and administrative capacities at the municipal level and integration and development activities with the establishment cyclical procedures for analysis planning and implementation The Dynamics of Metropolitan Management in Southeast Asia Jürgen Rüland, 1996 Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia Ira M. Robinson, 2011-11-01 A distinguishing feature of recent urbanization in the ASEAN countries of Thailand Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Indonesia is the outward extension of their mega cities Bangkok Jakarta Manila Singapore and Kuala Lumpur beyond the metropolitan borders resulting in the establishment of new towns industrial estates and housing projects in previously rural areas This process has both positive and negative effects On one side household incomes and employment opportunities are increasing but on the other the growth often causes serious problems in terms of environmental deterioration conflicting land uses and inadequate housing and service provisions Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia is the first comprehensive work on the subject of ASEAN mega urban regions The contributors review T G McGee's original idea of desakota zones and offer arguments both for and against this concept making a significant contribution to our understanding of the true face of ASEAN cities The book brings together authors from around the world and will be of interest to a wide audience including demographers urban planners geographers sociologists economists civil servants and development consultants The Extended Metropolis Norton Sydney Ginsburg, Bruce Koppel, T. G. McGee, 1991-01-01 Asian urbanization is entering a new phase that differs significantly from the patterns of city growth experienced in other developing countries and in the developed world According to a recent hypothesis zones of intensive economic interaction between rural and urban activities are emerging The zones appear to be a new form of socioeconomic organization that is neither rural nor urban but preserves essential ingredients of each Asian and Pacific Cities Ian Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013-03-12 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development Making Megacities in Asia Du Huynh,2019-10-19 This book analyses and compares the development paths of five major cities in East and Southeast Asia since the early 1960s including Ho Chi Minh City Jakarta Manila Seoul and Shanghai In examining these five cases through a carefully crafted conceptual framework the author excavates an understanding of the dynamics that have enabled Seoul and Shanghai to become highly competitive as major engines of economic growth while simultaneously accounting for why the other three cities have faced numerous problems in terms of meeting their development goals Presenting both quantitative and qualitative data to trace the course of changes between 1960 and 2015 the case studies curate six possible explanations for the different cities developmental trajectories The book considers the national development strategy matters to the development of cities and positions the share of budget revenue retained for cities expenditure as critical The author demonstrates that consistently pursuing long term strategies is important and that public entrepreneurship with powerful supporting coalitions is vital The book illustrates how master plans have played limited roles in the building of cities and that fragmented governments are often at the root of the problems facing a city s development This book will be highly relevant to researchers in international and Asian urban development Port Cities in Asia and Europe Arndt Graf,Chua Beng

Huat,2008-11-20 With the demise of European socialist economies and the marketization of Asian communist countries a new global capitalism has reshaped the configuration of the world economy with speed a determining factor to all transactions of information finance goods and services and people Sea ports that were significant for a slower but no less global economy have been undergoing transformation to stay economically and culturally relevant Some manage to reinvent themselves as tourist cities some face decline if they do not manage to transform This volume looks at a number of port cities in Asia and Europe that face this pressure With contributions considering history contemporary developments contacts between ports the representation of ports and the relations between port cities and their hinterlands This comparative study identifies many parallels between local histories and developments in the Asian and European port cities as well as new opportunities for sharing experiences and learning from the developments and decisions in similar situations in other port cities

Environmental Problems in Third World Cities Jorge E. Hardoy,Diana Mitlin,David Satterthwaite,2024-02-02 Describes and analyses the environmental problems of Third World cities showing how they affect human health and the local ecology The authors show how readily available practical solutions are if the political means can be found The Legacy of Habitat
