Frederic Hall, Mexico

Mexican Law:

A Compilation of Spanish and Mexican Law, in Relation to Mines, and Titles to Real Estate, in Force in California, Texas and New Mexico John Arnold Rockwell, 1851 Mexican Law for the American Lawyer Jorge A. Vargas, 2009

Three special features make this book unique in many respects. First, the book has been written by an eminent group of Mexican practitioners and academics recognized in Mexico for their legal expertise. These are attorneys working for prestigious law firms in Mexico who wrote their chapters keeping in mind the professional interest of American lawyers. Second, each of its seventeen chapters discusses a Mexican legal area commonly found in decisions rendered by state or federal courts in our country. These areas include personal injury contracts, Fideicomisos, real estate companies, Maquiladoras, promissory notes, family law, conflict of laws, letters rogatory, enforcement of judgments, etc. And third, most chapters include a legal glossary, a specialized bibliography, and samples of practical Mexican legal documents. This up-to-date book, edited and co-authored by the University of San Diego School of Law professor Jorge A. Vargas, a prolific author on Mexican law, will be invaluable for legal practitioners, judges, and government officials who handle legal matters involving Mexican law, as well as for business and law students. Whether a researcher is a seasoned Mexican legal scholar or new to the subject, tools that are laid out well, written by experts, and concisely written are always welcomed but not always available. This particular publication is one of the best structured books I have seen recently. If you deal with Mexican law, you should consider having this one on your shelf.

Legal Information ALERT Mexican Law for Norteamericanos, 1975 Unlawful Violence Rebecca Janzen, 2022-05-15

Violence has only increased in Mexico since 2000. 23,000 murders were recorded in 2016 and 29,168 in 2017. The abundance of laws and constitutional amendments that have cropped up in response are mirrored in Mexico's fragmented cultural production of the same period. Contemporary Mexican literature grapples with this splintered reality through non-linear stories from multiple perspectives, often told through shifts in time. The novels such as Jorge Volpi's Una novela criminal (A Novel Crime) 2018 and Julián Herbert's La casa del dolor ajeno (The House of the Pain of Others) 2015 take multiple perspectives and follow non-linear plotlines. Other examples such as the very short stories in Basta 100 mujeres contra la violencia de género (Enough 100 Women against Gender Based Violence) 2013 present perspectives from multiple authors. Few scholars compare cultural production and legal texts in situations like Mexico, where extreme violence coexists with a high number of human rights laws. Unlawful Violence measures fictional accounts of human rights against new laws that include constitutional amendments to reform legal proceedings, laws that protect children, laws that condemn violence against women, and laws that protect migrants and Indigenous peoples. It also explores debates about these laws in the Mexican house of representatives and senate, as well as interactions between the law and the Mexican public.
