Postcards from the Baja California Border Daniel D. Arreola, 2021-10-05 Postcards have a magical pull They allow us to see the past through charming relics that allow us to travel back in time Daniel D Arreola's Postcards from the Baja California Border offers a window into the historical and geographical past of storied Mexican border communities Once popular tourist destinations from the 1900s through the 1950s the border communities explored in Postcards from the Baja California Border used to be filled with revelers cabarets curio shops and more The postcards in this book show the bright and dynamic past of California's borderlands while diving deep into the historic and geographic significance of the imagery found on the postcards This form of place study calls attention to how we can see a past through a serial view of places by the nature of repetition and the photographing of the same place over and over again Arreola draws our focus to townscapes or built landscapes of four border towns Tijuana Mexicali Tecate and Algodones during the first half of the twentieth century With an emphasis on the tourist's view of these places this book creates a vivid picture of what life was like for tourists and residents of these towns in the early and mid twentieth century Postcards from the Baja California Border is a rich and fascinating experience one that takes you on a time travel journey through border town histories and geographies while celebrating the visual intrigue of postcards Postcards from the Chihuahua Border Daniel D. Arreola, 2019-10-29 Just a trolley ride from El Paso Ciudad Juarez was a popular destination in the early 1900s Enticing and exciting tourists descended on this and other Mexican border towns to browse curio shops dine and dance attend bullfights and perhaps escape Prohibition America In Postcards from the Chihuahua Border Daniel D Arreola captures the exhilaration of places in time taking us back to Mexico's northern border towns of Ciudad Juarez Ojinaga and Palomas in the early twentieth century Drawing on more than three decades of archival work Arreola uses postcards and maps to unveil the history of these towns along west Texas's and New Mexico's southern borders Postcards offer a special kind of visual evidence Arreola's collection of imagery and commentary about them shows us singular places enriching our understandings of history and the history of change in Chihuahua No one postcard tells the entire story But image after image offers a collected view and insight into changing perceptions Arreola's geography of place looks both inward and outward We see what tourists see while at the same time gaining insight about what postcard photographers and postcard publishers wanted to be seen and perceived about these border communities Postcards from the Chihuahua Border is a colorful and dynamic visual history It invites the reader to time travel to revisit another era the first half of the last century when these border towns were framed and made popular through picture postcards The Fence and the River Claire F. Fox, 1999 Offers an illustrated study that asks how the art produced about the U S Mexico border reflects political and economic transformations occurring world wide

Bunuel and Mexico Ernesto R. Acevedo-Muñoz, 2025-03-18 Though Luis Buñuel one of the most important filmmakers of the twentieth century spent his most productive years as a director in Mexico film histories and criticism invariably pay little attention to his work during this period The only book length English language study of Buñuel's Mexican films this book is the first to explore a significant but neglected area of this filmmaker's distinguished career and thus to fill a gap in our appreciation and understanding of both Buñuel's achievement and the history of Mexican film Ernesto Acevedo Muñoz considers Buñuel's Mexican films made between 1947 and 1965 within the context of a national and nationalist film industry comparing the filmmaker's employment of styles genres character types themes and techniques to those most characteristic of Mexican cinema In this study Buñuel's films emerge as a link between the Classical Mexican cinema of the 1930s through the 1950s and the new Cinema of the 1960s flourishing in a time of crisis for the national film industry and introducing some of the stylistic and conceptual changes that would revitalize Mexican cinema The Eagle and the Virgin Mary Kay Vaughan, Stephen Lewis, 2006-03-13 Collection of essays aimed at an undergraduate audience focusing on cultural policy and production after the Mexican revolution Postcards from the Chihuahua Border Daniel D. Arreola, 2019-11-22 Just a trolley ride from El Paso Ciudad Juarez was a popular destination in the early 1900s Enticing and exciting tourists descended on this and other Mexican border towns to browse curio shops dine and dance attend bullfights and perhaps escape Prohibition America In Postcards from the Chihuahua Border Daniel D Arreola captures the exhilaration of places in time taking us back to Mexico's northern border towns of Ciudad Juárez and El Paso in the early twentieth century. Drawing on more than three decades of archival work, Arreola uses postcards and maps to unveil the history of these towns along west Texas and New Mexico's southern borders. Postcards offer a special kind of visual evidence. Arreola's collection of imagery and commentary about them shows us singular places enriching our understandings of history and the history of change in Chihuahua. No one postcard tells the entire story. But image after image offers a collected view and insight into changing perceptions. Arreola's geography of place looks both inward and outward. We see what tourists see while at the same time gaining insight about what postcard photographers and postcard publishers wanted to be seen and perceived about these border communities. Postcards from the Chihuahua Border is a colorful and dynamic visual history. It invites the reader to time travel to revisit another era, the first half of the last century, when these border towns were framed and made popular through picture postcards.

Postcards From a PostMexican Alvaro Ramirez, 2025-04-11 Postcards from a PostMexican chronicles life in a transcultural world that is emerging in Mexico and the United States, the result of one hundred years of migrations, NAFTA, the Internet, and social media. In this world, identities morph, change, and are reinvented at a dizzying pace. This is the arena of the new actor on the block, the postMexican, who inhabits a transnational space, has moved away from nationalism, and contrasts with the folkloric character that is being slowly relegated to the background in Mexico. Yet many Mexicans, in particular migrants in the U.S., continue to hold on to the old nationalist cultural ways of being. In this sense, these postcards hold up a mirror for us to see the bewildering new reality that is merging two countries and invites us to reflect on how a new cultural mestizaje is redefining our idea of Mexicanness in the new millennium, both north and south of the border. Postcards from a PostMexican approaches these issues in a provocative and critical manner. It is a great read from a writer who is a product of transnational fusion with a keen eye for cultural and political nuance, which results in a most entertaining book.
