Ostrich Egg Shell Cups Of Mesopotamia:

Ostrich Egg-shell Cups of Mesopotamia and the Ostrich in Ancient and Modern Times Berthold Laufer,1926

Ancient Mesopotamian Materials and Industries Peter Roger Stuart Moorey,1999 This is the first systematic attempt to survey in detail the archaeological evidence for the crafts and craftsmanship of the Sumerians Babylonians and Assyrians in ancient Mesopotamia covering the period ca 8000 300 B C E As creators of some of the earliest farming and urban communities known to us these people were among the first pioneers of many crafts and skills that remain fundamental to modern ways of life Many of the raw materials for crafts had to be imported from outside the river valley of the Tigris and Euphrates providing an unusually sensitive indicator of the commercial and cultural contacts of Mesopotamia In this book Dr Moorey reviews briefly the textual evidence and then goes on to examine in detail the material evidence for a wide range of crafts using stones both common and ornamental animal products from hippopotamus ivory to ostrich egg shells ceramics glazed materials and glass metals and building materials With a comprehensive bibliography this will be a key work of reference for archaeologists and those interested in the early history of crafts and technology as well as for specialist historians of the ancient Near East

Shaw,2000-03-23 The book describes current research into all aspects of craftwork in ancient Egypt

Yotvata Lily Singer-Avitz,Etan Ayalon,2023-01-03 This book presents the final report of the excavations at Yotvata the largest oasis in the Arabah Valley conducted by the Sonia and Marco Nadler Institute of Archaeology of Tel Aviv University in 1974 1980 under the direction of Dr Ze'ev Meshel The report covers two central sites a fortified Iron I site and an Early Islamic settlement The Iron I remains consist of an irregular casemate wall surrounding a courtyard The location of this site suggests that the settlement was established in order to protect the water sources and to overlook and supervise the nearby crossroads Based on the relative proximity of the site to Timna it may be concluded that the oasis formed the main source of water and wood for the population involved in copper production in that region The rich finds uncovered at the Early Islamic settlement including a large courtyard building and a nearby bathhouse among other structures point to habitation from the end of the seventh to the early ninth century CE The proximity of the settlement to a sophisticated irrigation system qanat and the administrative economic ostraca discovered at the site suggest that it served as the center of an agricultural estate owned by an elite Muslim family Among the unique finds is a large assemblage of locally produced handmade pottery which is thoroughly studied here The findings from the excavations at the Yotvata oasis have made a major contribution to the study of Early Islamic settlement and material culture in the greater Arabah region and beyond
