Our Forests Our Future:

Our Forests, Our Future Emil Salim, Ola Ullsten, World Commission on Forests and Sustainable Development, 1999-04-15 Forests are extraordinary in their contribution to the basic human need for environmental stability and security as well as in their contribution to the livelihood of many The World Commission on Forests and Sustainable Development WCFSD through its unique makeup and independent nature has been able to address the most significant issues surrounding the world's forests in a manner not possible for any other body or institution By convening public hearings all over the world to give voice to those who depend on forests and by engaging itself in the politics of the issues at the highest levels the WCFSD has endeavored to address fundamental and serious concerns This report representing the culmination of these efforts discusses forest practices politics and policies and the social situations which they create or perpetuate and presents the Commission's findings conclusions and recommendations Our Forests Our Future: Report of the World Commission on Forests and Sustainable Development Emil Salim, Ola Ullsten, 2012 Our Forests, Our Future Kogan Page, Limited, 1999-12-01 Our Forests, Our Future World Commission on Forests and Sustainable Development, 1999 Measuring the Success of the Our Forests, Our Future Policy Victoria. Audit Office, 2004-01-01 This report sets out a framework of performance indicators and measures that may be used to assess whether the implementation of the Our Forests Our Future policy is successful Our Forest Our Future is an important sustainable forest management policy in Victoria It seeks to protect the forests environmental values while supporting the timber industry and assisting rural communities A number of initiatives in the policy will not take effect until 2005 or 2007 and in some instances it will be difficult to assess the outcomes of the policy until 2010 Our Forests Our Future Victoria. Dept. of Natural Resources and Environment, 2002 Tropical Forests and the Human Spirit Roger D. Stone, Claudia D'Andrea, 2002-01-17 Tropical forests are vanishing at an alarming rate This book based on extensive international field research highlights one solution for preserving this precious resource empowering local people who depend on the forest for survival Synthesizing a vast amount of information that has never been brought together in one place Roger D Stone and Claudia D Andrea provide a clearly written and energizing tour of global efforts to empower community based forest stewards Along the way they show the fundamental importance of tropical forest ecosystems and deepen our sense of urgency to save them for the benefit of billions of rural people in tropical and subtropical regions as well as for countless species of plants and animals In their travels to research this book the authors saw many remarkable examples of how proficient even the poorest local people can be in stabilizing and recovering formerly destitute forests With engagingly written case studies from Thailand's Golden Triangle to Mindanao in the Philippines from Indonesia India and Africa to Brazil Mexico and Central America they introduce us to the communities and the individuals the governments the loggers the agencies and the local groups who vie for forest resources Contrasting community based efforts and traditional forest management with government and donor efforts they discuss the many reasons why international institutions and national governments have been unable and unwilling to stem the accelerating loss of tropical forestland This book argues we are paying a terrible price politically economically and environmentally for allowing tropical forests to be stripped Community based forestry is no panacea but this book clearly shows its effectiveness as a management technique Hearing on H.R. 2458, the Community Protection and Hazardous Fuels Reduction Act of 1997 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Resources. Subcommittee on Forests and Forest Health,1998 Our Forests. Our Future Tāne's Tree Trust,2018 Forests James Fargo Balliett,2014-12-18 Forests are considered the lungs of the planet as they consume and store carbon dioxide and produce oxygen These biomes defined as ecological communities dominated by long lived woody vegetation historically have provided an economic foundation for growing nations supplying wood for buildings firewood for fuel and land for expanding cities and farms For centuries industrial nations in Europe and the United States have relied on large tracts of forestland for economic prosperity The research presented in this book reveals that population pressures are causing considerable environmental distress in even the most remote forest areas Three detailed case studies are presented The first provides an assessment of illegal logging deep in South America s Amazon rain forest a region closely tied to food and product demands thousands of miles away The second examines the effect of increased hunting in Central Africa s Congo forest which threatens wildlife especially mammal species with slower reproductive cycles Finally the third describes encroachment on old growth tropical forests on the Southern Pacific island of Borneo which today is better managed thanks to the collective planning and conservation efforts of the governments of Brunei Indonesia and Malaysia Reconsidering REDD+ Julia Dehm,2021-06-03 REDD operates to reorganise social relations and to establish new forms of global authority over forests in the Global South Illustrated Canadian Forest and Outdoors ,1922 Towards Sustainable Management of the Boreal Forest Philip Joseph Burton,2003 Presenting a summary of the development in boreal forest management this book provides a progressive vision for some of the world s northern forests It includes a selection of chapters based on the research conducted by the Sustainable Forest Management Network across Canada It includes a number of case histories Elements of Economics for High Schools Ulysses Simpson Parker,1916 Notre Avenir, Nos Forêts Ontario.
