Meeting, 1890 Art and Moral Change Ki Joo Choi, 2024 This book reconsiders the relationship between aesthetics and theological ethics The primary question it seeks to answer is whether artistic creativity is a morally relevant activity Drawing on the work of Jonathan Edwards and Thomas Aquinas Choi argues that the arts are the cultural medium through which we can better understand what is morally possible and that aesthetic objects can serve as snapshots of a particular community's perspectives on the good life Art in other words offers glimpses not only into competing moral visions within society but also the extent to which these contested moral views are understood The arts in Choi's view provide a way of assessing the limits and possibilities of moral reasoning the contextuality of moral discernment and the need for moral thinking that is dialogical and dialectical Among Our Books

render Christian convictions morally intelligible the author casts fresh light on traditional theoretical issues and articulates the distinctive Christian response to contemporary concerns such as suicide medical ethics and child care The first section of the book deals with methodological issues the meaning and nature of practical reason obligation claims natural law and self deception and the affinity of story and ethics It focuses on the relation of truthfulness and tragedy and the need for a story a set of religious convictions or grammar of theology that does justice to the tragic character of human existence The second section addresses substantive issues suicide euthanasia and the value of survival the moral limits of population growth the definition of person for medical reasons and social involvement and Christian ethics The overall theme is the need for a community in which truthfulness is a way of life In the final section devoted to the problem of how to care for disabled children the implications of the author's ethical position are given concrete expression He discusses the assumptions underlying the willingness to have children criteria for humanness medical ethics and how truthful communities deal with suffering In Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas extends and clarifies the ethical position set forth in his earlier books Character and the Christian Life and Vision and Virtue
