World of Our Mothers Miguel Montiel, Yvonne de la Torre Montiel, 2022-09-20 World of Our Mothers captures the largely forgotten history of courage and heartbreak of forty five women who immigrated to the United States during the era of the 1910 Mexican Revolution. The book reveals how these women in the early twentieth century reconciled their lives with their circumstances enduring the violence of the Revolution experiencing forced labor and lost childhoods encountering enganchadores labor contractors and living in barrios mining towns and industrial areas of the Midwest and what they saw as their primary task caring for their families. While the women share a historic immigration journey each story provides unique details and circumstances that testify to the diversity of the immigrant experience. The oral histories a project more than forty years in the making let these women speak for themselves while historical information is added to support and illuminate the women's voices. The book which includes a foreword by Irasema Coronado director of the School of Transborder Studies and Chris Marin professor emeritus both at Arizona State University is divided into four parts. Part 1 highlights the salient events of the Revolution part 2 presents an overview of what immigrants inherited upon their arrival to the United States part 3 identifies challenges faced by immigrant families and part 4 focuses on stories by location Arizona mining towns Phoenix barrios and Midwestern colonias all communities that immigrant women helped create. The book concludes with ideas on how readers can examine their own family histories. Readers are invited to engage with one another to uncover alternative interpretations of the immigrant experience and through the process connect one generation with another. Mother of Invention: How Our Mothers Influenced Us as Feminist Academics and Activists Vanessa Reimer, 2013-06-01 Mother of Invention How Our Mothers Influenced Us As Feminist Academics and Activists is an interdisciplinary collection that combines feminist theory with life writing to explore the diverse ways that mothers whether or not they themselves identify as feminist inspire feminist consciousness in their daughters and sons. It features creative and scholarly contributions from feminist academics activists writers and artists from different educational backgrounds places and walks of life. While not an exclusive celebration of maternal relations this collection provides an antidote to matrophobia and mother blaming by critically exploring and affirming the myriad of challenges and complexities that constitute motherwork. It explores how the mothering of feminist daughters and sons intersects with issues of gender sexuality disability ethnicity racialization citizenship religion economic class education and socio historical location. Collectively these essays explore the centrality of intergenerational matrilineal narratives in shaping feminist consciousness they deconstruct dominant ideologies of patriarchal motherhood and womanhood and they challenge the notion that there is a formulaic way to raise feminist daughters and sons or a singular correct way to engage in feminist maternal practice. Mothers' Work and Children's Lives Rucker C. Johnson, Ariel Kalil, Rachel Elizabeth Dunifon, 2010 This book examines the effects of work requirements imposed by welfare reform on low income women and their families The authors pay particular attention to the nature of work whether it is stable or unstable the number of hours worked in a week and regularity and flexibility of work schedules They also show how these factors make it more difficult for low income women to balance work and family requirements

Jungian Analysts Working Across Cultures Catherine

Crowther,Jan Wiener,2021-05-31 Jungian Analysts Working Across Cultures From Tradition to Innovation gives a fascinating account of the wide variety of experiences of Jungian analysts working in different cultures across the world They describe and reflect on experiences of both offering and receiving training within these cross cultural partnerships This is a book not only about training but is also an enlightening cultural commentary for our times The powerful bi directionality of cultural influence and discovery is apparent in different ways in every chapter prompting a re appraisal of concepts essential to the core values of Jungian practice which show an outdated adherence to culture bound attitudes The publication of this book is a timely reminder that when Jungian analysis as we know it is floundering in some Western countries new projects in countries seeking to develop an analytic culture give hope for sustaining our professional practice
