Mibing Cat:

Exploring Cats: Their Behaviors and Human-Cat Interactions Lynette Arnason Hart, Benjamin Hart, Emma Kathryn Grigg, Leslie Ann Lyons, Dennis Clair Turner, 2023-12-27 Cats exceed dogs in their numbers as companion animals in the U S and much of Europe despite them not filling working roles In the past their prowess as mousers on farms sometimes made them essential but these days many cats lead leisurely lives in people s homes What accounts for them becoming such appreciated family members What are their behaviors that are so enticing Exactly how do they respond to us When are they preferred companion animals more than dogs What do we know about cultural differences in views about cats Their growing popularity and the relative paucity of data about owned cats living in homes emphasizes the importance of monitoring their welfare The anthrozoological research literature on companion animals includes extensive studies of dogs while contributing relatively few close looks at the special behaviors and traits of domestic cats that make them so desirable as companions We know little about the dynamics of our interactions with cats and the attachment shared with them which may differ in some ways for those we have with dogs Nor have we identified the specific contexts where cats are particularly or uniquely compatible How does the type of attachment affect and shape the bond relationship between human and cat How are cats as emotional support animals for people with special needs especially autism What new information do we have about the cognitive abilities of domestic cats and how these abilities shape cats behavior and relationships with humans How do early life experiences of cats influence their behavior as adults or their successful integration into human households Do cats fit best in certain residential settings or with specific types or ages of people This Research Topic provides an opportunity to update our understanding on the special qualities and behaviors of cats and to scrutinize our mutual interactions with these companions

Instrumentation for Astronomy with Large Optical Telescopes C.M. Humphries, 1982-06-30 Interest world wide in the provision of new observational astronomical facilities in the form of ground based optical telescopes of large aperture has never been higher than exists at present The benefits to be gained from increased aperture size however are only utilised effectively if efficient instrumentation is also available There have been significant improvements recently in this area particularly in detector technology and data handling as well as in optical design so that systems which are currently being developed have the capability of being vastly more powerful in terms of the efficient use of photons than those which existed only 5 years ago The rationale for the decision by Commission 9 of the International Astronomical Union to hold IAU Colloquium 67 therefore was to obtain reports on these developments with the emphasis placed upon overall efficiency of the complete observational system from telescope aperture right through to detector output A fitting venue for the meeting was the site of the 6 metre BTA Bolshoi Azimuth Telescope at Zelenchukskaya in the Caucasus mountains USSR The BTA is operated by the Special Astrophysical Observatory located at Nizhnij Arkhyz a few kilometres from the telescope itself Epilepsy Bibliography
