German Reich and Protectorate October 1941-March 1943 Susanne Heim, Caroline Pearce, 2025-08-15 This source edition on the persecution and murder of the European Jews by Nazi Germany presents in a total of 16 volumes a thematically comprehensive selection of documents on the Holocaust The work illustrates the contemporary contexts the dynamics and the intermediate stages of the political and social processes that led to this unprecedented mass crime It can be used by teachers researchers students and all other interested parties The edition comprises authentic testimony by persecutors victims and onlookers These testimonies are furnished with academic annotations and the vast majority of them are published here for the first time in English Learn more about the PMJ on <https://pmjdocuments.org> The Convent of Wesel Jesse Spohnholz, 2017-09-28 The Convent of Wesel was long believed to be a clandestine assembly of Protestant leaders in 1568 that helped establish foundations for Reformed churches in the Dutch Republic and northwest Germany However Jesse Spohnholz shows that that event did not happen but was an idea created and perpetuated by historians and record keepers since the 1600s Appropriately this book offers not just a fascinating snapshot of Reformation history but a reflection on the nature of historical inquiry itself The Convent of Wesel begins with a detailed microhistory that unravels the mystery and then traces knowledge about the document at the centre of the mystery over four and a half centuries through historical writing archiving and centenary commemorations Spohnholz reveals how historians can inadvertently align themselves with protagonists in the debates they study and thus replicate errors that conceal the dynamic complexity of the past

Gender and Divorce in Europe: 1600 - 1900 Andrea Griesebner, Evdoxios Doxiadis, 2023-08-18 Getting divorced and remarried are now common practices in European societies even if the rules differ from one country to the next Civil marriage law still echoes religious marriage law which for centuries determined which persons could enter into marriage with each other and how validly contracted marriages could be ended Religions and denominations also had different regulations regarding whether a divorce only ended marital obligations or also permitted remarriage during the lifetime of the divorced spouse This book deals with predominantly handwritten documents of divorce proceedings from the British Isles to Western Central and Southeastern Europe and from 1600 to the 1930s The praxeological analysis reveals the arguments and strategies put forward to obtain or prevent divorce as well as the social and above all economic conditions and arrangements connected with divorce The contributions break new ground by combining previously often separate fields of research and regions of investigation It makes clear that the gender order doesn't always run along religious lines as was too often assumed This book will be of interest to all scholars and students of economic social religious cultural legal and gender history as well as gender and well being in a broader sense Who's who in Germany Karl Strute, Theodor Doelken, 1983 Vols for 1956 include a separately paged section Directory of organizations associations and institutions Library & Information Science Abstracts, 1998 Formative Modernities in the Early Modern Atlantic and Beyond Veronika Hyden-Hanscho, Werner Stangl, 2023-02-14 This book offers a new perspective on the concept of modernity Since its invention as a contrast to Antiquity or the Middle Ages modernity has been tied to ideas of superiority progress and efficiency As a counterpart to the Marxist history of class struggle modernization theories have transformed modernity into an almost teleological concept of historical development These strong connotations obstruct a clear look at other forms of modernity The contributions of the volume will show in a comparative perspective how modernity can also be understood and analyzed as multiple responses of societies and polities to organize themselves in facing ever more complex and integrated interactions at ever larger scales Performance gaps of machines Wilhelm Nüßer, Thilo Steckel, 2018-01-18 In this publication a widespread phenomenon is studied in many usage scenarios modern complex machines show a significant difference between the maximum sustainable performance available in well specified environments and the average performance many users experience in their everyday interaction with the machine This performance gap appears to be increasing with technical progress and performance of machines Although this situation is probably well known to many readers and very often not so quietly endured it was not studied systematically so far This publication describes the conceptual background of the performance gap in a very general way It develops a semi quantitative description and points to approaches to reduce the performance gap in current and future environments Process executives engineers and system analysts will hopefully benefit from this approach especially in the dynamic environments envisioned in initiatives like the German Industrie 4.0 In the technology network Intelligent Technical Systems OstWestfalenLippe short it's OWL around 200 companies universities research institutions and organisations have joined forces to jointly shape the innovative leap from mechatronics to intelligent technical systems Together they develop approaches and technologies for intelligent products and production processes smart services and the working world of the future The spectrum ranges from automation and drive solutions to machines vehicles automats and household appliances to networked production plants and platforms This creates a unique technology platform that enables companies to increase the reliability resource efficiency and user friendliness of their products and production systems and tap the potential of digital transformation Agrindex, 1980 The Zoological Record, 1999 Siedlungsforschung, 1993 Who's who in the Arts, 1975 Forstarchiv, 2006 Who Owns Whom, 1975 Intersections Michael Hamburger, 2000 A collection of
