Other Life:

Passion for Work Robert J. Vallerand, Nathalie Houliort, 2019-05-31 Passion is a pervasive concept in the work domain. Workers aspire to be passionate in the hope of finding meaning and satisfaction from their professional life while employers dream of passionate employees who will ensure organizational performance. Does passion for work matter? Does passion invariably bring about the anticipated positive outcomes or is there a darker side to passion for work that can also lead to negative outcomes for individuals and organizations? The goal of this book is to address these issues. This volume reviews major theories of work passion focusing specifically on the dominant theory, the Dualistic Model of Passion. This theory distinguishes between two types of passion: harmonious and obsessive, and their associated determinants and consequences. This volume provides a comprehensive understanding of passion for work by addressing the origin of the concept and its theoretical issues: how can passion for work be developed? what are the consequences to be expected at the individual and organizational levels and how can passion for work shed new light on contemporary issues in the workplace? Passion for Work: Theory, Research, and Applications synthesizes a vast body of existing research in the area, provides insights into new and exciting research avenues, and explores how passion for work can be cultivated in work settings in order to fulfill both workers' and employers' hopes for a productive and satisfying work life. The Timeless Book Two: Silver Lining Tyson Luke, 2011 Contested Hospitalities in a Time of Migration Synnøve Bendixsen, Trygve Wyller, 2019-10-28 This book explores the duality of openness and restriction in approaches to migrants in the Nordic countries. As borders have become less permeable to non-Europeans, it presents research on civil society practices that oppose the existing border regimes and examine the values that they express. The volume offers case studies from across the region that demonstrate opposition to increasingly restricted borders and which seek to offer hospitality to migrants. One topic is whether these practices impact and transform the Nordic Protestant trajectory. The book considers whether such actions are indicative of new sensibilities and values in which traditional categories and binaries are becoming less relevant. It also discusses what these practices of hospitality indicate about the changing relationship between voluntary organizations and the Nordic welfare states in the time of migration. As such, it will appeal to scholars of sociology, anthropology, and religious studies with interests in migration, civil society, resistance, and social values. Vital Statistics of the United States, 1979 Messiah Pulpit, 1899 Contains text of sermons delivered by M. J. Savage and others in New York City. The writings comprise Enrique Martínez Celaya's public lectures, essays, interviews, correspondence with artists, critics, and scholars, artist statements, blog posts, and journal entries.
