Our Crowd:

That's My Crowd! Shelton L. Smith, 2004 In the religious climate of today it is important to know what God says our crowd should be Through the use of well over two hundred passages of scripture Dr Shelton Smith defines the fundamental crowd for us Evaluating our crowd by the standard of the Word of God may sometimes cost us some friends and they may accuse us of abandoning them But our separation from them will not be because the Bible has changed It will be because they have hoisted anchor and drifted with the winds Make sure you are sailing in safe waters with the right crowd

Melville's Evermoving Dawn John Bryant, Robert Milder, 1997 This collection of analytical essays is the result of several conferences throughout 1991 the centenary of Herman Melville's death They survey the past and present of Melville Studies and suggest directions for the future

"Our Crowd" Stephen Birmingham, 2015-12-01 The 1 New York Times bestseller that traces the rise of the Guggenheims the Goldmans and other families from immigrant poverty to social prominence They immigrated to America from Germany in the nineteenth century with names like Loeb Sachs Seligman Lehman Guggenheim and Goldman From tenements on the Lower East Side to Park Avenue mansions this handful of Jewish families turned small businesses into imposing enterprises and amassed spectacular fortunes But despite possessing breathtaking wealth that rivaled the Astors and Rockefellers they were barred by the gentile establishment from the lofty realm of the 400 a register of New York's most elite because of their religion and humble backgrounds In response they created their own elite 100 a privileged society as opulent and exclusive as the one that had refused them entry Our Crowd is the fascinating story of this rarefied society Based on letters documents diary entries and intimate personal remembrances of family lore by members of these most illustrious clans it is an engrossing portrait of upper class Jewish life over two centuries a riveting story of the bankers brokers financiers philanthropists and business tycoons who started with nothing and turned their family names into American institutions

Building Coalitions, Making Policy Martin A. Levin, Daniel DiSalvo, Martin M. Shapiro, 2012-06-04 Getting past No in an age of partisan noise In an age when partisan politics has reached a deafening and arguably impotent pitch how does the real work of politics get done This book opens the door on backroom politics and gives readers an insider's perspective on the efforts of policymakers from three presidential administrations to get past the naysayers and effect real and lasting policy changes The editors take a comparative approach offering a thorough overview of policymaking during the Clinton and George W Bush administrations with further discussion of President Obama's successful and failed attempts to build coalitions and get past no The contributors a national network of prominent political scientists reveal the sausage making of politics and policy Readers can almost see the political players in the proverbial smoke filled room shirtsleeves rolled up and BlackBerrys in hand developing the strategies and hammering out the compromises designed to hold the party base while winning over independent voters

Combining an insider's perspective with actual case studies the volume examines the policymaking behind such programs as No Child Left Behind tax cuts Social Security privatization Medicare prescription drug reform education and immigration reform environmental policy judicial politics national security Covering all major areas of policymaking Building Coalitions Making Policy gives instructors in political science public administration and policy American government and American presidential studies plenty of provocative examples for classroom debate Yearbook National Education Association of the United States.
