Our Fragmented World:

Our Fragmented World William Gordon East, John Robert Victor Prescott, 1975      Fragment worlds Marjetica Potrč, 2006

Homa Farjadi's recent work reveals a consistent reflective grasp on the role of design in shaping public space within our changing cities. In these projects, there is a sense of public space where citizens or users of the sites construct their own spaces while experiencing them. These architectures and landscapes incorporate spatial vectors, tensions, lines of flow, all interwoven within the historic and current urban context, resulting in design that appears as a still snapshot within a complex system of movement. Homa Farjadi is principal of Farjadi Architects London and Professor in Practice of Architecture at the University of Pennsylvania. With projects in the UK, US, and Asia, her office has won international competitions and exhibited worldwide.

Yochanan's Gamble Marc Katz, 2024-12-05

Some two thousand years ago, as the story goes, a rabbi named Yochanan makes the epitome of pragmatic gambles, wagering the entire fate of the Jewish people. In dialogue with the soon-to-be Roman emperor Vespasian, Yochanan tacitly acknowledges the Romans' planned destruction of Jerusalem in return for a plot of land in a town called Yavneh. There, after the razing of Jerusalem, Jews will join with their teacher to envision a new Judaism, one not based on Temple rites but on real life in exile, laying the groundwork for today's vibrant Judaism. In Rabbi Marc Katz's novel, examination, pragmatism is itself an authentic Jewish strategy for addressing moral questions. The rabbis of the Talmud model the process by demonstrating how to think situationally, weigh competing values, and make hard compromises. Leading rabbis ask: What will work alongside? What is right? They birth a malleable and nuanced system of law, halakhah, that is faithful to their received tradition and to the people and circumstances before them. By investigating how the rabbis navigate their own ethical challenges, determining truth, upholding compromise, convincing others, keeping peace with neighbors, avoiding infighting, weighing sinning in hopes of promoting a greater good, Yochanan's Gamble forges a new Jewish path forward for resolving moral conundrums in our day.

Geographers Hayden Lorimer, Charles W. J. Withers, 2016-09-22

Geographers: Biobibliographical Studies Volume 35 includes seven essays discussing the contribution made to geography by eleven geographers. The subjects include three British figures: Francis Rennell Rodd (1895-1978), expert on the Sahara; David Harris (1930-2013), a geographer with archaeological interests; and William Gordon East (1902-1998), a Spanish urban scholar. Enric Martin (1928-2012), Mauricio de Almeida Abreu (1948-2011), a Brazilian urban and historical geographer, and two essays on French geographers: one on Jacques Levainville (1869-1932), the other an innovative prosopographical essay on five French authors involved in the monumental Vidalian Geographie Universelle of the early 20th century. In these studies, geography's international dimensions are illuminated, and the subject's vibrant history is shown to be the result of committed endeavours in the field, in the classroom, and in print.

The Affirmations of Reason Sigurd Baark,2018-01-08 This book examines the speculative core of Karl Barth s theology reconsidering the relationship between theory and practice in Barth s thinking A consequence of this reconsideration is the recognition that Barth s own account of his theological development is largely correct Sigurd Baark draws heavily on the philosophical tradition of German Idealism arguing that an important part of what makes Barth a speculative theologian is the way his thinking is informed by the nexus of self consciousness reason and freedom which was most fully developed by Kant Fichte and Hegel The book provides a new interpretation of Barth s theology and shows how a speculative understanding of theology is useful in today s intellectual climate
