Our Modern Stone Age Robert Latimer Bates,Julia A. Jackson,1982-01-01    Our Modern Stone Age Robert Latimer Bates,Julia A. Jackson,1982    Out of Our Minds Felipe Fernández-Armesto,2020-10-06 A stimulating history of how the imagination interacted with its sibling psychological faculties emotion perception and reason to shape the history of human mental life The Wall Street Journal To imagine to see what is not there is the startling ability that has fueled human development and innovation through the centuries As a species we stand alone in our remarkable capacity to refashion the world after the picture in our minds Traversing the realms of science politics religion culture philosophy and history Felipe Fernández Armesto reveals the thrilling and disquieting tales of our imaginative leaps from the first Homo sapiens to the present day Through groundbreaking insights in cognitive science Fernández Armesto explores how and why we have ideas in the first place providing a tantalizing glimpse into who we are and what we might yet accomplish Unearthing historical evidence he begins by reconstructing the thoughts of our Paleolithic ancestors to reveal the subtlety and profundity of the thinking of early humans A masterful paean to the human imagination from a wonderfully elegant thinker Out of Our Minds shows that bad ideas are often more influential than good ones that the oldest recoverable thoughts include some of the best that ideas of Western origin often issued from exchanges with the wider world and that the pace of innovative thinking is under threat

Harmsworth History of the World Sir John Alexander Hammerton,1907    Harmsworth History of the World: Man and the universe. Japan. Siberia. China Arthur Mee,1907    The Aurignacians and Their Culture George Lucius

Collie,1928    Collecting Colonialism Chris Gosden,Chantal Knowles,2020-05-26 Colonialism has shaped the world we live in today and has often been studied at a global level but there is less understanding of how colonial relations operated locally

This book takes twentieth century Papua New Guinea as its focus and charts the changes in colonial relationships as they were expressed through the flow of material culture Exploring the links between colonialism and material culture in general the authors focus on the particular insights that museum collections can provide into social relations Collections made by anthropologists in New Britain in the first half of the century are compared with recent fieldwork in the area to provide a particularly in depth picture of historical change Museum collections can reveal how people dealt with changes in the nature of community gender relations and notions of power through the shifting use of objects in ritual and exchange Objects photographs and archives bring to life both the individual characters of colonial New Britain and the longer term patterns of history Drawing on the related disciplines of archaeology linguistics history and anthropology the authors provide fresh insights into the complexities of colonial life In particular they show how social relationships among Melanesians whites and other communities helped to erode distinctions between colonizers and locals distinctions that have been maintained by scholars of colonialism in the past This book successfully combines a specific geographical focus with an interest in the broader questions that surround colonial relations historical change and the history of anthropology
