Thus attention is often on the societies of the Northeast India as they putter with transforming institutions and more intensive resource consumption in the wake of modernization and development activities. This volume is an examination into questions of who exercises control who constructs knowledge ideas about the region and how far such discourses are people centric. It inspects how India's Northeast have been understood in colonial and post colonial contexts through the contributions from research scholars and faculties from different academic spaces. These contributions are both from within the region as well as from neighbourhood. Thus presenting a cross dimensional gaze on social political economic as well as issues related to space relation.
