Eggs I Have Laid Meredith Willson, 2025-12-15 Back in print, the playful and personal memoir of Meredith Willson's creative tribulations and triumphs before The Music Man. Composer, musical director, writer, lecturer, and piccoloist Meredith Willson laid many eggs throughout his career, but not all those eggs would hatch quite so gloriously as his Broadway hit The Music Man. In Eggs I Have Laid, Willson genially chronicles the failures that he faced as he made his place in show business during the pivotal early 1950s when radio was being overtaken by television. From Hollywood to New York, London, and Paris, and back to his hometown of Mason City, Iowa, Willson sets each scene vividly, bringing to life his encounters with zeitgeist stars, collaborators Tallulah Bankhead and Fred Allen, to Orson Welles and Carmen Miranda. His signature wit excels as he relates his tales of eggs dropped, notable among them the lavishly produced variety program The Big Show, his ill-fated attempt to be a radio bulwark against the encroaching tide of television. First published in 1955, Eggs I Have Laid features delightful curiosities like an eight-page platonic dialogue about quitting smoking and the lyrics to a love song with the occupancy limits of the New York Fire Code as its central metaphor. It is at once a vivid chronicle and a trove of insight from the hilarious perseverant mind of Meredith Willson. Meredith Willson John C. Skipper, 2000

Meredith Willson - America's Music Man Bill Oates, 2005-08-15 Meredith Willson's America's Music Man is a loving, thorough, and accurate examination of one of Broadway's great composers. It tells the story before, during, and after The Music Man opened in 1957. The story of Willson's family, his life in Mason City, Iowa, and his eventual rise to the top of the music world forms the platform that led to four musicals and dozens of awards. Also included are Willson's activities: scoring movies, directing orchestras on Old Time Radio, and even becoming a character on radio and television shows. This is the first in
