Metacognition And Reading Comprehension:

Metacognition and Reading Comprehension Ruth Garner,1987 Developmental psychologists have been interested in metacognitive phenomena since the early 1970s while reading researchers have been interested in awareness monitoring and strategy use for text processing as part of a shift in focus from text factors to reader factors in reading A great many research studies have been conducted by psychologists and reading researchers under the rubric of metacognition Unlike other chapters from some edited books which present only syntheses of this burgeoning research literature this volume not only presents the literature but provides analysis about its usefulness for researchers and practitioners It also presents a discussion of important methodological dilemmas within these research literatures Improving Reading

Comprehension through Metacognitive Reading Strategies Instruction Kouider Mokhtari,2016-11-02 This book addresses the need to help all students including English learners improve their ability to read with understanding so that they can succeed not just in their language and literacy classes but also in their subject area classrooms The book brings together a group of experts representing the fields of first and second language reading whose chapters contribute in different yet complementary ways to the goal of this book Improve students reading for understanding across languages with metacognitive awareness and use of reading strategies instruction Cognition, Metacognition, and Reading Donna-Lynn Forrest-Pressley,T. Gary Waller,2013-03-12 We had our first conversation about cognition metacognition and reading in September of 1976 Our particular concern was with reading and learning to read and what if anything meta cognition might have to do with it all We didn't really know much about metacognition then of course but then most other people were in the same predicament Some people had been working with interesting approaches and results on metalanguage and reading among them J Downing L Ehri L Gleitman 1 Mattingly and E Ryan and it also was about that time that people were becoming aware of E Markman's first studies of comprehension monitoring Other than that perhaps the most influential item around was the perhaps already classic monograph by Kruetzer Leonard and Flavell on what children know about their own memory Also in the air at that time were things like A Brown's notions about knowing knowing about knowing and knowing how to know D Meichenbaum's ideas about cognitive behavior modification and the work by A Brown and S Smiley on the awareness of important units in text Even though these developments were cited as new and innovative it was not the case that psychologists had never before been of questions They certainly interested in or concerned with metacognitive sorts had as clearly evidenced by the notion of metaplans in Miller Galanter and Pribram's Plans and the Structure of Behavior

Reading for Understanding Ulla-Britt Persson,1994 A book length study described the metacognitive components of good and poor reading ability with special reference to comprehension Subjects were 53 Swedish students in grade 5 or 8 and were either good or poor comprehenders as defined by a combination of a reading test and teacher ratings Data collection consisted of semi structured interviews and the recall of three texts with different structures Results indicated that 1 good readers organized their knowledge and used it appropriately 2 good readers cognitive and metacognitive abilities were well integrated whereas the pattern of functions in poor readers seemed distorted 3 poor readers were less confident than good readers they regarded themselves as poor learners and their verbal responses were less elaborate 4 poor readers decoding was often not automatic leaving less capacity for comprehension 5 the gap between good and poor readers widened from grade 5 to grade 8 as more independent reading was expected of students and 6 the younger students believed they would improve the older students lost interest in studies Findings suggest that poor and good readers differ in the way they process text information and monitor their cognitive functions Contains over 200 references in addition to 19 tables and 5 figures of data Appendixes present the interview questionnaire examples of categorizations the texts and sample student responses
