Age at Marriage and Fertility in the United States Edward Kareria Mburugu,1978 Marriage and Fertility Robert I. Rotberg,Theodore Rabb,1980 Marriage and Fertility in Tianjin, China Burton Pasternak,1986 A report of research conducted in Tianjin People s Republic of China September 1981 January 1982 describes and analyses changes in family structure marriage post marital residence and fertility in a neighborhood of factory workers over a 50 year period Social and economic changes such as delayed marriage increased access to education and the entrance of women into the labor force were accompanied by a decline in fertility But modernization theory and demographic transition do not anticipate the fertility transformations which actually occurred Changes indicate fertility was at least as responsive to political shifts as modernization The paper suggests it may be more useful to begin with the demographic pattern and use it to signal potentially important economic political or social causes than to begin with specific social causes Twelve figures and 18 tables are included and an 8 page reference list is appended APG Age pattern of marriage and fertility of couples ,

Marriage and Fertility Theodore K. Rabb,2016-04-19 In this volume the articles are primarily on European history but their subject matter indicates the remarkable variety both of the marriage and fertility patterns of past societies and of the methods scholars have used to investigate them Originally published in 1981 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Annotation In this book the authors compare the demography of the Taiwanese town Lugang and the Dutch town Nijmegen using data on the lives of thousands of their inhabitants The period covered is approximately 1850 to 1945 First the standard demographic rates on nuptiality fertility and mortality are calculated to test the Malthusian predictions on a so called positive and a preventive demographic regime Next the authors try to disentangle the individual rationality behind aggregated measures in order to find out how the inhabitants of the two towns used the one life they had Unaware of each others existence the people living in Nijmegen and Lugang had more in common than one would expect given the huge cultural differences BOOK JACKET Annual Report ... on the Registration of Births and Deaths, Marriages and Divorces, in Michigan ,1897 The Registrar General's Statistical Review of England and Wales for the Year ...
