Randall G. Hassell

Martial Art Spirit:

The Martial Spirit Herman Kauz,1988 Sword and Brush Dave Lowry,1995-09-19 This moment of perfect clarity that is the force behind all the traditional Japanese arts from archery to flower arranging is celebrated here in Dave Lowry's exploration of the common principles shared by calligraphy and the martial arts Forty two examples of Lowry's calligraphy accompanied by his essays show how the way of the brush reflects the strategic principles of the way of the sword Each calligraphy represents a term from the martial arts such as do the way or wa harmony The accompanying text amplifies our understanding of the term what it meant to Japanese warriors and what it means to practitioners of calligraphy and the martial arts today What becomes clear is that these two seemingly unrelated disciplines actually partake of the same profound elemental spirit The Inner Art of Karate Kenji Tokitsu,2012-02-14 Budo the way of the martial arts is at heart a path of spiritual cultivation and self realization whose aim is to develop a strategic mind that makes combat unnecessary Kenji Tokitsu explains the philosophy of karate as budo and looks deeply at the key concepts that are essential for developing the budo mind in karate practice These concepts are distance and timing rhythm anticipation and intuition and the cultivation of explosive but focused energy These concepts are difficult to teach but mastering them is the ultimate goal of any true martial artist Tokitsu expertly guides the reader through these elusive ideas with clarity and a practical view
