Saint John Chrysostom

Martyrs Shrine:

The Death and Afterlife of the North American Martyrs Emma Anderson, 2013-11-18 In the 1640s eight Jesuit missionaries met their deaths at the hands of native antagonists. With their collective canonization in 1930 these men became North America's first saints. Emma Anderson untangles the complexities of these seminal acts of violence and their ever-changing legacy across the centuries. While exploring how Jesuit missionaries perceived their terrifying final hours, she also seeks to comprehend the motivations of those who confronted them from the other side of the axe, musket, or caldron of boiling water, and to illuminate the experiences of those native Catholics who, though they died alongside their missionary mentors, have yet to receive comparable recognition as martyrs. In tracing the creation and evolution of the cult of the martyrs across the centuries, Anderson reveals the ways in which both believers and detractors have honored and preserved the memory of the martyrs in this afterlife and how their powerful story has been continually reinterpreted in the collective imagination. As rival shrines rose on either side of the U.S.-Canadian border, these figures would both unite and deeply divide natives and non-natives, francophones and anglophones, Protestants and Catholics. Canadians and Americans forging a legacy as controversial as it has been enduring.

Hilduin of Saint-Denis Michael Lapidge, 2017-05-22 Hilduin c. 785–c. 860, abbot of Saint Denis in Paris and archchaplain to Louis the Pious, was one of the leading scholars and administrators of the Carolingian empire. He was the first to translate the mystical Greek writings of the pseudo-Dionysius into Latin; he then identified this Dionysius with the first bishop of Paris of that name and assigned his episcopacy and martyrdom to 96 A.D. Hilduin composed a life of St. Dionysius in prose and verse; the prose work has not been edited since 1580, and the verse work, a major new Carolingian Latin poem, has never before been printed. Both texts are accompanied by facing-page English translation and detailed commentary. Eleven appendices contain editions of the various texts on which Hilduin drew in compiling his fictitious account of St. Dionysius.

Image, Imagination and Imaginarium Lu Pan, 2021-01-02 This book explores five cases of monument and public commemorative space related to World War II (WWII) in contemporary China: Mainland, Hong Kong, and Taiwan, all of which were built either prior to or right after the end of the War, and their physical existence still remains. Through the study on the monuments, the project illustrates past and ongoing controversies and contestations over Chinese nation, sovereignty, modernism, and identity. Despite their historical affinities, the three societies in question—namely Mainland China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan—vary in their own ways of telling, remembering, and forgetting WWII. These divergences are not only rooted in their different political circumstances and social experiences but also in their current competitions, confrontations, and integrations. This book will be of great interest to historians, sinologists, and analysts of new Asian nationalism.

the making and consumption of conflict related heritage throughout the Asia Pacific region Contributing to a growing literature on difficult heritage this collection advances our understanding of how places of pain shame oppression and trauma have been appropriated and refashioned as heritage in a number of societies in contemporary East and Southeast Asia and Oceania The authors analyse how the repackaging of difficult pasts as heritage can serve either to reinforce borders transcend them or even achieve both simultaneously depending on the political agendas that inform the heritage making process They also examine the ways in which these processes respond to colonialism decolonization and nationalism The volume shows how efforts to preserve various sites of difficult heritage can involve the construction of new borders in the mind between what is commemorated and what is often deliberately obscured or forgotten Taken together the studies presented here suggest new directions for comparative research into difficult heritage across Asia and beyond applying an interdisciplinary and critical perspective that spans history heritage studies memory studies urban studies architecture and international relations Bringing together an excellent range of cases from diverse locations across the Asia Pacific this book is an important contribution not only to this part of the world but to understandings of heritage struggles especially in relation to colonial histories more widely Sharon Macdonald Humboldt University t zu Berlin This collection is an important contribution to our understanding of the place of Asia within global memory culture Going beyond the tunnel vision of national memories it provides us with a sophisticated examination of the ways the difficult heritage of colonialism revolution and war intersects with contemporary politics to produce an Asia Pacific memory sphere Ran Zwigenberg Pennsylvania State University
