It includes essays by Shanin, Wada, Sayer and Corrigan which consider the late period of Marx's analysis and its interdependence with nineteenth century experience. Marx and Education in Russia and China R. F. Price, 2011-12-08

To many education students Russian and/or Chinese education is at the same time their introduction to Marxism and many students go no further. This book sets the record straight by giving a thorough introduction to the writings of Marx himself as they relate to education. It shows what Marxism implies for education as aim, method and content. It then proceeds to compare educational developments in the former USSR and China in the light of this analysis, attempting to answer the question as to how Marxist this has been in the schools and outside them. German Marxism and Russian Communism John Petrov Plamenatz, 1954

Oittinen, 2023-05-17 This book discusses Marx's relations with Russia which have always been ambivalent. In his youth and indeed a good way into the 1860s Marx might even be called a Russophobe. Around 1870 however his views on Russia undergo a change: he becomes acquainted with a new kind of Russian radical and revolutionary movement and begins to study Russia. It becomes clear that Marx begins to feel that Russia is some kind of a touchstone for his theories. Offering a new and original interpretation of Marx's theoretical development, Marx's Russian Moment analyzes the following themes: Marx's concept of ideology as developed in the German Ideology and its fortunes in Russia; Marx's encounter with Bakunin and Russian nihilism; Marx's and Engels's studies of primitive societies; Engels's views of the developmental perspectives of small Slavic nations; and Marx's views on Finland and the Russian Grand Duchy. Considering these topics as case studies, Oittinen argues that Marx's encounter with Russia substantially influenced Marx's and Engels's views not just on current political and economic matters but also on a philosophical and methodological level. Marx Versus Russia Karl Marx, 1962
