Over Singapore Aerial Views Of The Island Republic:

Majulah!: 50 Years Of Malay/muslim Community In Singapore Zainul Abidin Rasheed, Norshahril Saat, 2016-05-24 The Malay Muslim community comprising approximately 13% of Singapore's population is an integral part of modern Singapore's formative years. The community has come a long way and accomplished plenty. Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong lauded the community's growth and its efforts in nation building in the 2015 National Day Rally. The Malay Muslim community is an integral part of Singapore and they have contributed significantly to our nation's harmony and progress. 50 Years of Malay Muslim Community in Singapore highlights the progress, the contributions and the challenges of the community for the past 50 years since Singapore's independence in 1965. While progress is significant, challenges remain an uphill battle towards a comprehensive community development. As the book narrates stories from the past, the successes and the challenges, it is also important for the community to reflect and to look ahead. Majulah! The Site of the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus in Singapore Sandra Hudd, 2016-06-17 The Site of the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus in Singapore: Entwined Histories of a Colonial Convent and a Nation 1854-2015 explores key issues and developments in colonial and postcolonial Singapore by examining one particular site in central Singapore: the former Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus, established in 1854 and now a food and entertainment complex. The Convent was an early provider of social services and girls' education, almost a mini-city within walls, including a thriving community of schools, an orphanage, and a women's refuge. World War II and the Japanese occupation followed by the creation of the new Republic of Singapore presented a new set of challenges, but it was the convent's size and prime location that made it attractive for urban redevelopment in the 1980s and led to government acquisition, demolition of some buildings, and the remainder put out to private tender. The chapel and the former nuns' residence are classified as National Monuments, but in line with government policy of adaptive reuse of heritage sites, the complex now contains bars and restaurants, and the deconsecrated chapel is used for wedding receptions and events. Tracking the physical and usage changes of the site, this book works to make sense of that eventful journey, a paradoxical journey that moves only in time, not in space, and includes abandoned babies, French nuns, Japanese bombings, and twenty-first-century dance parties. In a society that has undergone massive change economically and socially and above all transitioned from a small colonial enterprise to a wealthy independent city-state, those physical changes and differing usages of the Convent site over the years track the changes in the nation. The wider ongoing tensions between heritage conservation and the modern global city are explored by examining what has been chosen for preservation, the quintessentially Singaporean hybridity of the commercial reuse of historic buildings, as well as the nostalgia for what has been lost. Singapore, the Island Republic Singapore. Ministry of Culture (1959-1965), 1968 Singapore's Permanent Territorial Revolution Rodolphe De Koninck, 2017-05-19 Ever since Singapore became an independent nation in 1965, its government has been intent on transforming the island's environment. This has led to a nearly constant overhaul of the landscape, whether still natural or already manmade Not only are the shape and dimensions of the main island and its subsidiary ones constantly modified so are their relief and hydrology No stone is left unturned literally and one could add nor is a single cultural feature be it a house a factory a road or a cemetery Given one of Singapore s unique feature namely that the state is the sole landlord all types of property in all parts of the island rural as well as urban were and remain subject to expropriation fortunately always with due compensation This atlas illustrates essentially through diachronic mapping of the changing distribution of all forms of land use the universality of what has become a tool of social management By constantly replanning the rules of access to space the Singaporean State is thus redefining territoriality even in its minute details This is one reason it has been able to consolidate its control over civil society peacefully and to an extent rarely known in history      Yearbook ,1970
