Noiseinduced Hearing Loss:

Noise-Induced Hearing Loss Colleen G. Le Prell, Donald Henderson, Richard R. Fay, Arthur N. Popper, 2011-10-30

Exposure to loud noise continues to be the largest cause of hearing loss in the adult population. The problem of NIHL impacts a number of disciplines. US standards for permissible noise exposure were originally published in 1968 and remain largely unchanged today. Indeed, permissible noise exposure for US personnel is significantly greater than that allowed in numerous other countries, including for example Canada, China, Brazil, Mexico, and the European Union. However, there have been a number of discoveries and advances that have increased our understanding of the mechanisms of NIHL. These advances have the potential to impact how NIHL can be prevented and how our noise standards can be made more appropriate.

Noise-induced Hearing Loss Armand L. Dancer, 1992      Noise and the Ear: Noise Induced Hearing Loss and Hidden Society Burden Win Tin, 2019-11-18

After the early success of some articles as author and co-author, Dr. Win Tin has come up with his first book on Noise Induced Hearing Loss and the Hidden Society Burden. He noticed that everyone needs peace of mind, especially after a long working day. We need to rest physically and mentally to recoup, working again with enthusiasm the next day. Thus, it is important that we have a certain private, quiet, peaceful, serene environment, day or night. But noise is all around us. The sound of grass cutters, the piling of structures, nearby children playing and shouting, or the traffic noise. These can make a lot of noise and the peace shattered. Noise-induced hearing loss is mainly caused by a certain amount of noise which has a deleterious effect on the ear when exposed to long periods of time, e.g., years, and usually without the person noticing, as in occupational noise-induced hearing loss, or single instances of extreme noise, as in acoustic trauma. This causes not only hearing loss but effects socially, financially, physically, and mentally. Its problem is so big with compensation in millions, causing a huge hidden burden to the society, people, and government. Yet it should be noted that this is the only preventable cause of sensorineural hearing loss which can be prevented while other causes are still not possible. The book introduces various noise, the pathogenesis, and causes of noise-induced hearing loss as seen in various strata of people. Apart from this, there is the Malaysian perspective as written by some researchers from Malaysia. Then there are also effects of noise not only on humans but also in birds and fish. Methods to diagnosis and ways to prevent, with up-to-date researches and treatment, are also discussed. Thus, it is a comprehensive one for the knowledge of all levels, professionals and non-professionals. This book is important and everybody should read or keep as a reference as they will know in depth, as most are unaware of the hidden problem. Young people, military, hospital workers, nurses, contractors, builders, architect, engineers, urban planners, public health doctors, and everyone can benefit from this book. Hence, this book is useful, not only for leisure reading but cherished for life. With the 25th anniversary of UMS, this book can be a milestone for the wellness of UMS staff and people of Sabah.

New Perspectives on Noise-induced Hearing Loss Roger P. Hamernik, Donald Henderson, Richard Salvi, 1982      Scientific Basis of Noise-induced Hearing Loss Alf Axelsson, 1996      Noise and Military Service Institute of

Medicine, Medical Follow-up Agency, Committee on Noise-Induced Hearing Loss and Tinnitus Associated with Military Service from World War II to the Present, 2006-01-20 The Institute of Medicine carried out a study mandated by Congress and sponsored by the Department of Veterans Affairs to provide an assessment of several issues related to noise induced hearing loss and tinnitus associated with service in the Armed Forces since World War II The resulting book Noise and Military Service Implications for Hearing Loss and Tinnitus presents findings on the presence of hazardous noise in military settings levels of noise exposure necessary to cause hearing loss or tinnitus risk factors for noise induced hearing loss and tinnitus the timing of the effects of noise exposure on hearing and the adequacy of military hearing conservation programs and audiometric testing The book stresses the importance of conducting hearing tests audiograms at the beginning and end of military service for all military personnel and recommends several steps aimed at improving the military services prevention of and surveillance for hearing loss and tinnitus The book also identifies research needs emphasizing topics specifically related to military service

Noise-induced Hearing Loss, 1997 Basic and Applied Aspects of Noise-Induced Hearing Loss Richard J. Salvi, D. Henderson, R. P. Hamernik, V. Colletti, 2013-03-09 In September 1985 NATO sponsored an Advanced Study Workshop entitled Noise Induced Hearing Loss Basic and Applied Aspects The meeting was held in a mountain retreat near Lucca Italy and was attended by scientists clinicians and public officials from 12 countries This was the third in a series of such conferences organized by the authors The first two were supported by the United States National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health their proceedings were published as The Effects of Noise on Hearing in 1976 and New Perspectives on Noise Induced Hearing Loss in 1982 The Organizing Committee approached NATO because it was felt that the problem of noise was common to all industrialized countries and was an especially serious problem for the military Thus the NATO sponsorship and the Italian site of the meeting were part of the Organizing Committee's plan to obtain an international and thorough representation on the problem of noise induced hearing loss The NATO meeting and proceedings followed the format of the previous two symposia with an initial focus on the anatomical and physiological disturbances resulting from noise induced hearing loss This was followed by sections devoted to studies of a more applied nature involving general auditory performance in noise issues associated with the establishment of noise exposure criteria nonauditory effects of noise and the interaction of noise with other agents

Risk Factors for Severe Work-related Noise-induced Hearing Loss Amy Sue Sims, 2009 Noise Induced Hearing Loss, 2001 Noise and Hearing Ron Hinchcliffe, Linda M. Luxon, Richard Williams, 2001-06-08 Noise damage to hearing health is a health risk which is associated with both civilian and military occupations as well as certain leisure activities Occupational noise damage to hearing must date from the bronze age when man first began to fashion metals some five thousand years ago The rapid growth of industrialisation over the past two centuries has produced what might be termed as the current civilian epidemic of occupational noise induced hearing loss This series seeks to address points relevant to current knowledge of the subject The volume should prove useful to members of the many disciplines that have an interest in this subject

Noise Induced Hearing Loss in Manufacturing

Industries Professor Dr. Syed Mohamed Aljunid, Noraita Binti Tahir, 2020-04-24 Manufacturing industry is one of the most important sectors that contribute significantly to the economy of Malaysia More than half a million workers in Malaysia work in this industry and many of them are exposed to loud noises of more than 85dB that is harmful to health Noise induced hearing loss NIHL is the highest reported occupational disease affecting around 16% of workers globally In this book we reported a study conducted in 26 manufacturing industries that employed around 270 000 workers with more than 40% of them were exposed to noises that potentially cause NIHL This cross sectional study designed with face to face interviews using questionnaires conducted among Occupational Safety and Health practitioners and workers selected from these industries Direct and indirect cost was imputed component covering cost of medical care and rehabilitation transportation loss of productive time and investigations Costing data in the government hospital was obtained from casemix information system from a tertiary teaching hospital The study confirmed that NIHL among workers in manufacturing industry imposed a huge economic burden for Malaysia In order to mitigate this problem the existing and yet out dated noise regulation need to be reviewed Meanwhile employers need to implement hearing conservation program more effectively
