Nonhuman Environment In Normal Development And In Schizophrenia:

The Nonhuman Environment in Normal Development and in Schizophrenia Harold F. Searles, M.D.,1960 The Nonhuman Environment in Normal Development and in Schizophrenia Harold F. Searles,1973 Psycho-Analytic Explorations Donald W. Winnicott,2018-05-08 This volume contains ninety two works by this renowned writer theoretician and clinician Includes critiques of Melanie Klein s ideas and insights into the works of other leading psychoanalysts and thoughts on such concepts as play in the analytic situation the fate of the transitional object regression in psychoanalysis and the use of silence in psychotherapy Psychoanalytic Thinking in Occupational Therapy Lindsey Nicholls,Julie Cunningham-Piergrossi,Carolina de Sena-Gibertoni,Margaret Daniel,2012-11-16 Divided into three overarching themes theory application and research this cutting edge book explores the influence of psychoanalytic theories on occupational therapy practice and thinking It incorporates a new conceptual model the MOVI to guide practice which uses psychoanalysis as a theoretical foundation for understanding therapeutic relationships and the doing that takes place in clinical practice Using practice models and incorporating many clinically applied examples in different occupational therapy settings this introductory text to psychoanalytic theory will appeal to students and practising clinical and academic occupational therapists worldwide and from different fields of practice from paediatrics and physical disability to older adult care and mental health The first book in fifty years to concentrate entirely on a psychoanalytic approach to occupational therapy Distills cutting edge theory into clinically relevant guidance Features clinical examples throughout showing the links between psychoanalytic theory and occupational therapy practice Written by an experienced international team of authors

Environmental Melancholia Renee Lertzman,2015-06-12 In this groundbreaking book Renee Lertzman applies psychoanalytic theory and psychosocial research to the issue of public engagement and public apathy in response to chronic ecological threats By highlighting unconscious and affective dimensions of contemporary ecological issues Lertzman deconstructs the idea that there is a gap between what people care about and what is actually carried out in policy and personal practice In doing so she presents an innovative way to think about and design engagement practices and policy interventions Based on key qualitative fieldwork and in depth interviews conducted in Green Bay Wisconsin each chapter provides a psychosocial psychoanalytic perspective on subjectivity affect and identity and considers what this means for understanding behaviour in relation to environmental crises and climate change The book argues for a theory of environmental melancholia that accounts for the ways in which people experience profound loss and disruption caused by environmental issues and yet may have trouble expressing or making sense of such experiences Environmental Melancholia offers a fresh perspective to the field of environmental psychology that until now has been largely dominated by research in cognitive behavioural and social psychology It will appeal to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of psychoanalysis psychosocial studies and sustainability as well as policy makers and educators internationally Essential

Papers on Psychosis Peter Buckley, 1988-05 This book brings together important psychoanalytic papers which shed light on the psychological nature of psychotic states and address aspects of their psychotherapy This book includes selections from the works of Harold F Searles Edith Jacobsen Victor Tausk Robert C Bak Nathaniel J London Norman Cameron and others and offers a critical essay by Peter Buckley

Mindsapes Vittorio Lingiardi, 2025-04-01 This book explores the links between the psyche and the landscape on the continuum that runs from our mental world inside to our surrounding world outside Our sense of self is shaped by our environment while it also helps to create the environment we perceive Looking to the fields of psychoanalysis literature art history and neuroaesthetics taking from both Harold Searles and Donald Winnicott from both Emily Dickinson and Rainer Maria Rilke from both Claude Monet and Gustav Klimt from both Semir Zeki and V S Ramachandran author Vittorio Lingiardi urges us to articulate the idea of landscape as a place that we seek all over the world a place that serves as a psychological scaffolding for and a reminder of something that is already inside us It is a discovery but also an invention a return to home Rivers mountains oceans ancient ruins or small towns these places inhabit our minds and our dreams and like psychic objects they are embedded in our memory and our unconscious This book will appeal to psychoanalysts and therapists of all kinds and to any reader who wants to understand the deep links between ourselves and our landscape in therapy and in everyday life
