Toward a Small Data Archaeology Lisa Overholtzer,2025-11-17 Toward a Small Data Archaeology presents an interpretive and methodological framework a small data archaeology elucidated through a case study at Xaltocan Mexico Aligned closely with Indigenous feminist principles by engaging directly with descendant communities that resist abstract large scale syntheses and instead emphasize deep localized understanding of ancestral lives intertwined with their landscapes this framework repositions archaeological inquiry by focusing on individual household contexts Drawing on diverse lines of evidence from molecular archaeology and geochemistry to Bayesian statistics Lisa Overholtzer uncovers the detailed social identities economic practices and ritual behaviors that defined everyday life in Xaltocan Xaltocan served as the Otom city state capital before being conquered by the Tepanecs subsequently incorporated into the Aztec Empire and finally integrated into the vast Spanish colonial sphere In reconstructing long term household histories that bridge the pre Hispanic and early Colonial periods this book resists narratives that define Indigenous peoples solely through the lens of conquest and subordination Instead it presents richly detailed reconstructions of familial relationships and social networks achieved through the rigorous analysis of artifacts ecofacts human remains and ancient DNA This meticulous and community collaborative approach not only maximizes insights available from a limited archaeological record but also honors the ethical imperative to work with descendant communities Toward a Small Data Archaeology offers an innovative reexamination of the past by privileging the intricate household level narratives of Indigenous communities over the homogenizing tendencies of broad scale big data approaches By peopling the past Overholtzer redefines methodological boundaries within archaeology produces reconstructions and narratives that are more in line with Indigenous philosophies and offers a compelling vision for a future in which historical narratives are reconstructed through a lens that is both deeply scientific and inherently humane
