Abstract: The management of the French health system is characterized by a high degree of centralization. The role of the state is to ensure the provision of health services, to regulate the market, to control the costs, and to ensure the quality of care. The state is also responsible for the financing of the health system. The management of the health system is a complex task that requires a high degree of coordination and collaboration between the state, the health professionals, and the patients. The state is responsible for the overall management of the health system, while the health professionals are responsible for the delivery of care. The patients are responsible for their own health and for their participation in the decision-making process. The management of the health system is a dynamic process that evolves over time in response to changing needs and challenges.
