Machine translation for everyone: Empowering users in the age of artificial intelligence Dorothy Kenny ,2022-07-06 Language learning and translation have always been complementary pillars of multilingualism in the European Union Both have been affected by the increasing availability of machine translation MT language learners now make use of free online MT to help them both understand and produce texts in a second language but there are fears that uninformed use of the technology could undermine effective language learning At the same time MT is promoted as a technology that will change the face of professional translation but the technical opacity of contemporary approaches and the legal and ethical issues they raise can make the participation of human translators in contemporary MT workflows particularly complicated Against this background this book attempts to promote teaching and learning about MT among a broad range of readers including language learners language teachers trainee translators translation teachers and professional translators It presents a rationale for learning about MT and provides both a basic introduction to contemporary will display history of MT and will deal with some of the major issues in the realisation of MT like the difficulty of translating prepositions or integrating semantics as well as the importance of real world knowledge To illustrate these difficulties with examples on a basic level a practice test with a moderately complex translation engine provided by Google has been carried out and will be explained Finally I am going to introduce three of the largest and most powerful translation machines currently in use I will also give a brief over view of methods of MT The aim of this paper is to show that the realisation of the primal idea of machine translation in its original sense which was to perform translation without human intervention except during the construction phase of the system is still markedly far away at present and machines are still unlikely to take over the jobs of human translators Early Years in Machine Translation W.
