Dell Orto, 1995 Articles on disabilities and rehabilitation for health care professionals patients and their families Talking Book Topics, 1990 Children and Animals Frank R. Ascione, 2005
Animal abuse has been an acknowledged problem for centuries but only within the past few decades has scientific research provided evidence that the maltreatment of animals often overlaps with violence toward people The perpetrators of such inhumane treatment are often children and adolescents This book presents current wisdom about the relationship between the maltreatment of animals and violence directed toward other human beings The author a noted expert in these areas writes in a style and presents the findings in a language that will be understandable to parents and teachers "Pet Therapy" Phil Arkow, 1998 Criminal Justice Research and Practice Susan L. Miller, 2007 Each semester thousands of students choose introductory courses in criminology criminal justice and sociology Many are motivated to do so by a strong desire to help others and to make a positive contribution to society But turning these feelings into postgraduate careers remains a challenge Some students choose law school while others become police officers but there are many other options This book offers guidance to students interested in working in the broad field of criminal justice but who are unclear as to what direction to take Further it posits that understanding differences between people race ethnicity gender social class sexual orientation is a critical component of any fulfilling career in criminal justice Essays by leading scholars practitioners and advocates delineate the latest feminist and methodological approaches in criminological research and offer a hands on look at how lawyers public sociologists academics and federal researchers grapple with issues of race class and gender in their work This book exposes students to a greater understanding of the range of career opportunities available in criminal justice and criminology as researchers professionals activists teachers and practitioners Examining diversity across these three dimensions this anthology will become a standard text for introductory criminal justice criminology and sociology courses as well as an invaluable guide for students and ordinary people interested in a career in the criminal justice field

Environment Kay Anderson, Bruce Braun, 2008 The articles collected together in this volume capture conceptual developments in the field of environmental studies in human geography and illustrate the diversity and remarkable vitality of geographical research on society environment relations Real Animal Heroes Paul D.
