

Moving things

Observations

Living things can move by themselves. Things that are not alive move in different ways. Some things fall, some things roll, some things fly, some things slide, some things bounce, and some things pour.

Science activity

Draw a line joining each picture to the word that describes how it is moving.

Diagram illustrating various ways objects move, with words and corresponding illustrations:

- bounce: A ball hitting the ground and rebounding.
- roll: A ball rolling on a flat surface.
- fly: A coin being tossed into the air.
- slide: A toy car sliding on a ramp.
- fall: A leaf falling from a tree.
- pour: A liquid being poured from a container.

Science explanations

Observe and record how things move at a playground. Try moving in different ways. Can a ball move in some of the ways you did?
