European Administrative Decisions Andrea M. Keessen, 2009. In view of the alleged democratic deficit at the European level it is all the more important that the administration of European law suffers neither from an application or enforcement deficit nor from a judicial deficit. This concern is particularly acute when the Member States depend on each other for the effective implementation of European law. Since the Treaty leaves the administration of European law primarily in the hands of the Member States without offering a legal basis for the harmonization of procedural administrative law, each area of law has its own administrative procedural rules. It is evaluated in the context of Community product regulation whether the available European rules are adequate to enable the administration to achieve the aims of the legislation: the free movement of authorized products on the internal market and a high level of protection for the environment or public health and guarantee respect for the right to be heard and the right to judicial protection as well. This book demonstrates that many lessons could be learned from the regulation of products in order to improve the drafting of European legislation that produces European administrative decisions. Then it is no longer necessary to reinvent the wheel each time effective implementation requires administrative cooperation between the Member States and the Community institutions and bodies. The main result of administrative cooperation between the Member States with the aid of the Community institutions and bodies is the creation of administrative decisions with EU wide effect. This occurs for instance through mutual recognition of administrative decisions. The exchange of information and mutual assistance should give enforcement EU wide effect as well, but this is still in its infancy in the area of EC product regulation. The development of rules which ensure respect for the right to be heard and to judicial protection is also lagging behind. This leads to gaps in the legal protection of individuals.

Cruise Tourism & Innovation Alexis Papathanassis, Michael H. Breitner, Ate de Groot, 2014. Innovation management is arguably essential for the profitability and growth sustainability of the cruise industry as it is for most areas of business endeavour. Now more than ever the cruise sector is faced with significant challenges including safety and industry reputation in the aftermath of the Costa Concordia disaster, a larger competitive scope and diminishing profit margins. Given that innovation management can be perceived as a management attitude and cultural habit, fostering inspiration is just as relevant as delivering innovation methodologies and guidelines. On this basis the aim of this combined conference proceedings is to provide a creativity impulse and to illustrate the breadth and potential of innovation management in the cruise sector.

Sources on inspiration include mobile information and communication technologies multimedia and the internet and focus on areas as diverse as safety aesthetics culture and professional education      LC-MS/MS Method for Mycotoxin Analysis Aldo Laganà,2018-07-09 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue LC MS MS Method for Mycotoxin Analysis that was published in Toxins      The Timberman ,1939      Engineering ,1897      Brassey's Naval Annual Earl Thomas Allnutt Brassey,1932      Eleventh Report of Session 2012-13 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: European Scrutiny Committee,2012-09-24      Advocacy in Neurology Wolfgang Grisold,Walter Struhal,Thomas Grisold,2019-02-21 Advocacy is a broad term that covers activities aimed at increasing attention awareness information nursing treatment and support to improve the outcome of patients These actions can be focused directly towards patients or indirectly via third parties Although advocacy is present in all medical specialties neurology in particular finds itself in need of strong advocacy tools as the diagnosis treatment long term care and associated resource and social issues have become increasingly complex While some physicians implicitly or explicitly act as advocates there is a lack of holistic research in order to clarify the meaning of advocacy along with concrete methods and strategies Advocacy in Neurology provides an integrated approach to the concept of advocacy in neurology Structured in five sections the book begins by explaining the term advocacy in general before elaborating on the areas of interest within neurology The text goes on to offer concrete strategies and tools for clinicians to deploy advocacy in their daily work and then discusses specific neurological diseases to point out and explain where advocacy is or could be beneficial The book ends with an outlook presentation of results and an ending conclusion Advocacy in Neurology offers a practical perspective on advocacy activities in neurology aiming to show when and why they are important for neurology      Ford's International Cruise Guide ,1992      Practical Engineer ,1898      Airline, Ship & Catering Onboard Services Magazine ,1995      Shipbuilding & Marine Engineering International ,1928      Investors Chronicle and Money Market Review ,1961      Lloyd's Maritime Directory ,2007      Weekly Commercial News ,1938      A Century of German Ship Posts Edwin Drechsel,1987 Ein Jahrhundert Deutsche Schiffspost Seepost Schiffspoststempel Abstempelung Datumstempel Geschichte      List of Shipowners & Managers ,2008
