The Münter House in Murnau Annegret Hoberg,2000 This is a museum guide to Gabriele Munter and the blue Rider artists in their original location in Murnau Germany The Münter House in Murnau

Muenter, 1877-1962 Gabriele Münter,1978 The Artist's Garden Jackie Bennett,2019-10-29 The Artist s Garden will feature up to 20 gardens that have inspired and been home to some of the greatest painters of history These gardens not only supplied the inspiration for creative works but also illuminate the professional motivation and private life of the artists themselves from Cezanne s house in the south of France to Childe Hassam at Celia Thaxter s garden off the coast off Maine Flowers and gardens have often been the first choice for artists looking for a subject A garden close to the artist s studio is not only convenient for daily material and ideas but also has the advantage of changing through the seasons and over time Claude Monet s Giverny was the catalyst for hundreds of great paintings by Monet and other artists each one different from the one before Sometimes a whole village becomes the focus for a colony of artists as at Gerberoy in Picardy and Skagen on the northernmost tip of Denmark This book is about the real homes and gardens that inspired these great artists gardens that can still be visited today The relationship between artist and garden is a complex one A few artists including Pierre Bonnard and his neighbour Monet were keen gardeners as much in love with their plants as their work while for others like Sorolla in Madrid his courtyard home was both a sanctuary and a source of ideas Gabriele Münter Gabriele

Together at Home Kelley Daley,2015 This thesis project investigates the correspondences between the domestic residence of Wassily Kandinsky and Gabriele Munter in Murnau Germany from 1909 1914 and Richard Wagner s theory of the Gesamtkunstwerk I focus on Kandinsky's designs for the house tracing his adaptation of Wagner's theory and late nineteenth century versions of Wagner's imagined total work of art to the domestic realm. Scholars often argue that Kandinsky's first experimentation with Wagner's theory of the Gesamtkunstwerk was with his stage composition Yellow Sound published in Der Blaue Reiter Almanac in 1912. He simultaneously experimented with the Gesamtkunstwerk when he began to decorate the home in Murnau in 1909. This thesis posits that Kandinsky formulated the Gesamtkunstwerk at the home in Murnau alongside Yellow Sound which proved to be more akin to Wagner's conception of a public Gesamtkunstwerk thus demonstrating Kandinsky's various manifestations of Wagner's theory. Through an analysis of the house and its connections to a wide range of precedents and to works Kandinsky made while living there this thesis provides a deeper understanding of this early period in Kandinsky's career which is often regarded as mere precursor for the abstract work he began to produce in the mid 1910s.

Artists' Houses Gérard-Georges Lemaire, 2005. An enchanting look at the homes lovingly designed by great European and American artists of the 19th and 20th centuries including Magritte, William Morris, Claude Monet and Giorgio de Chirico.
