Saul Bellow and American Transcendentalism

Mohammad A. Quayum, 2004 Saul Bellow and American Transcendentalism explores Saul Bellow's moral and philosophical affinity with the writers of American transcendentalism especially Emerson and Whitman. Its focus is on the vintage Bellow or his mature novels from Henderson the Rain King 1959 to The Dean's December 1982. In these novels Bellow highlights a moral crisis arising from humankind's despiritualization and dehumanization which he believes is responsible for an ongoing dichotomy in the modern world. Bellow describes this as a dichotomy of the Cleans and the Dirties in the context of American culture. To rectify this dichotomy and redeem humankind from its current death ridden state Bellow and his protagonists advance a vision of life that corresponds to the transcendental vision of dialogue and double consciousness or coordination and balance. Like Emerson they advocate The mid world is best. A man is a golden impossibility the line he must walk is a hair's breadth. Comparable to Whitman they urge the individual to knit the knot of contrariety and act as an arbiter of the diverse

The Urban Condition Ghent Urban Studies Team, 1999 What does the Western city at the end of the twentieth century look like? How did the modern metropolis of congestion and density turn into a posturban or even postsuburban cityscape? What are edge cities and technoburbs? How has the social composition of cities changed in the postwar era? What do gated communities tell us about social fragmentation? Is public space in the contemporary city being privatized and militarized? How can the urban self still be defined? What role does consumer aestheticism have to play in this? These and many more questions are addressed by this uniquely conceived multidisciplinary study. The Urban Condition seeks to interfere in current debates over the future and interpretation of our urban landscapes by reuniting studies of the city as a physical and material phenomenon and as a cultural and mental artefact. The Ghent Urban Studies Team responsible for the writing and editing of this volume is directed by Kristiaan Versluys and Dirk De Meyer at the University of Ghent Belgium. It is an interdisciplinary research team of young academics that further consists of Kristiaan Borret, Bart Eeckhout, Steven Jacobs and Bart Keunen. The collective expertise of GUST ranges from architectural theory, urban planning and art history to philosophy, literary criticism and cultural theory.

Israel Through the Jewish-American Imagination Andrew Furman, 1997-01-01

Examines eight Jewish American writers Meyer Levin, Leon Uris, Saul Bellow, Hugh Nissenson, Chaim Potok, Philip Roth, Anne Roiphe and Tova Reich who have imagined Israel in their work The Hero in Contemporary American Fiction S. Halldorson, 2007-12-09. This book sets out to write nothing short of a new theory of the heroic for today's world. It delves into the why of the hero as a natural companion piece to the how of the hero as written by Northrop Frye and Joseph Campbell over half a century ago. The novels of Saul Bellow and Don DeLillo serve as an anchor to the theory as it challenges our notions of what is heroic about nymphomaniacs, Holocaust survivors, spurious academics, cult followers, terrorists, celebrities, photographers and writers of novels who all attempt to claim the right to be hero.

Mr. Sammler's planet Saul Bellow, 1967

National Union Catalog, 1973

The Extension of Life R. A. York, 2003 Studies ten American novels from the later twentieth century in the light of theories of narration and of the recent debate on the nature of fiction. After an introduction to the theoretical background it analyzes works by Malamud Bellow Capote Barth Doctorow Morrison Oates Ford Smiley and Kingsolver emphasizing the complementary tendencies in American fiction to documentation of historical conditions and to the free play of the creative writer to factual record and to self conscious fabulation It argues that the tension between these two tendencies expresses an acute concern with the limitations of modern life with the writer's drive to constitute a realm of freedom and with the challenges of reconciling the two On Bellow's Planet Jonathan Wilson, 1985 For 20 years now Saul Bellow has been described by critics as the last standing humanist on the apocalyptic battlefields as the unique affirmer in a company of nihilists His fiction has been seen as embodying those human values we need most to be reminded of love truth honor and usefulness Jonathan Wilson making a radical break from the mainstream explores what he calls the dark side of Bellow He wonders how a writer whose message is essentially bleak and whose characters are generally described in terms of their disembodied consciousness can be seen as a life affirming novelist or so singular a champion of open ended human possibility ISBN 0 8386 3202 5 24 50 William Blake and the Myth of America Linda Freedman, 2018-07-05 This volume tells the story of William Blake's literary reception in America and suggests that ideas about Blake's poetry and personality helped shape mythopoeic visions of America from the Abolitionists to the counterculture It links high and low culture and covers poetry music theology and the novel American writers have turned to Blake to rediscover the symbolic meaning of their country in times of cataclysmic change terror and hope Blake entered American society when slavery was rife and civil war threatened the fragile experiment of democracy He found his moment in the mid twentieth century counterculture as left wing Americans took refuge in the arts at a time of increasingly reactionary conservatism vicious racism pervasive sexism dangerous nuclear competition and an increasingly unpopular war in Vietnam the fires of Orc raging against the systems of Urizen Blake's America as a symbol of cyclical hope and despair influenced many Americans who saw themselves as continuing the task of prophecy and vision Blakean forms of bardic song aphorism prophecy and lament became particularly relevant to a literary tradition which centralised the relationship between aspiration and experience His interrogations of power and privilege freedom and form resonated with Americans who repeatedly wrestled with the deep ironies of new world symbolism and sought to renew a Whitmanesque ideal of democracy through affection and openness towards alterity Saul Bellow Journal, 1992 A Remembered Future Harold Fisch, 1984 The Atlantic, 1970 Books from Around the World California State Library.
