Multicultural Experiment:

The Multicultural Experiment Leonie Kramer, 2003 The global movement of millions of people seeking better lives or refuge from persecution has given debate in Australia over immigration and multiculturalism a new urgency What once seemed a settled policy framework accepted by most political shades of opinion is now being widely questioned again Does Australia need more immigrants or have we reached the limits of social political and environmental tolerance Should immigrants and refugees adopt the customs and traditions of the host country or create cultural enclaves within it Does multiculturalism threaten national identity and is this desirable or not Has our experiment with multiculturalism been a success and should it continue In this book some leading Australians debate these issues with British and American experts in the field Essays by Geoffrey Blainey John O'Sullivan Owen Harries Philip Ruddock John Menadue Lance Morrow Bob Birrell Marilyn Halter Andrew Roberts Robert Rowthorn and Melanie Phillips     The Multicultural Dilemma Michelle Hale Williams, 2013 This work seeks to explore the contemporary challenge of government in multicultural societies drawing together a wide range of contributors to examine how ethnic difference could better understood and mediated by modern nation states Divided into three sections the book centres round the notion that changing patterns of migration bring escalating obstacles to integration or assimilation In the first section contributors focus on the theory that immigrants are the actors that catalyze contemporary multicultural dilemmas within states with a particular focus on diaspora and how a diaspora community may differ in some ways from other kinds of immigrant community Section two identifies key factors in shaping ethnic identity before moving on to examine the state of the debate over whether identity can be changed or manipulated The contributors to this section provide valuable insights into the catalysts and causes of ethnic division and tension by showing factors in the development of ethnic identity In the third section the focus turns to strategies for mediating multicultural challenges and managing internal diversity in multicultural society offering structural and institutional solutions with evidence of application in specific cases and country contexts Offering a comprehensive overview of this pressing issue and drawing on a wide range of case studies this work will be of interest to students and scholars of migration political sociology race and ethnic studies     Multiculturalism Michael Murphy, 2013-03-01 What is multiculturalism and what are the different theories used to justify it Are multicultural policies a threat to liberty and equality Can liberal democracies accommodate minority groups without sacrificing peace and stability In this clear introduction to the subject Michael Murphy explores these questions and critically assesses multiculturalism from the standpoint of political philosophy and political practice The book explores the origins and contemporary usage of the concept of multiculturalism in the context of debates about citizenship egalitarian justice and conflicts between individual and collective rights The ideas of some of the most influential champions and critics of multiculturalism including Will Kymlicka Chandran Kukathas Susan Okin and Brian Barry are also clearly explained and evaluated Key themes include the tension between multiculturalism and gender equality cultural relativism and the limits of liberal toleration and the impact of multicultural policies on social cohesion ethnic conflict Murphy also surveys the legal practices and policies enacted to accommodate multiculturalism drawing on examples from the Americas Australasia Europe Asia and the Middle East Multiculturalism A Critical Introduction is an ideal starting point for anyone coming to the topic for the first time as well as those already familiar with some of the key issues
