Monoha School Of Things:

Nothingness: Tadao Ando's Christian Sacred Space Jin Baek, 2009-06-12 Based around an interview with Tadao Ando this book explores the influence of the Buddhist concept of nothingness on Ando's Christian architecture and sheds new light on the cultural significance of the buildings of one of the world's leading contemporary architects. Specifically this book situates Ando's churches particularly his world renowned Church of the Light 1989 within the legacy of nothingness expounded by Kitaro Nishida 1870-1945 the father of the Kyoto Philosophical School. Linking Ando's Christian architecture with a philosophy originating in Mahayana Buddhism illuminates the relationship between the two religious systems as well as tying Ando's architecture to the influence of Nishida on post-war Japanese art and culture. Experimental Arts in Postwar Japan Miryam Sas, 2020-03-17 In the years of rapid economic growth following the protest movements of the 1960s artists and intellectuals in Japan searched for a means of direct impact on the whirlwind of historical and cultural transformations of their time. Yet while the artists often called for such direct encounter their works complicate this ideal with practices of interruption, self-reflexive mimesis and temporal discontinuity. In an era known for idealism and activism some of the most cherished ideals intimacy between subjects authenticity a sense of home are limitlessly desired yet always just out of reach. In this book Miryam Sas explores the theoretical and cultural implications of experimental arts in a range of media. Casting light on important moments in the arts from the 1960s to the early 1980s this study focuses first on underground post-shingeki theater and then on related works of experimental film and video buto dance and photography. Emphasizing the complex and sophisticated theoretical grounding of these artists through their works practices and writings this book also locates Japanese experimental arts in an extensive sustained dialogue with key issues of contemporary critical theory. Making Things Public Bruno Latour, Peter Weibel, 2005 This collection itself presents a significant public assembly joining such prominent thinkers as Richard Rorty Simon Schaffer Peter Galison and Peter Sloterdijk with the likes of Shakespeare Swift La Fontaine and Melville. Ranging from the distant past to the troubled present this collective effort examines the atmospheric conditions in which things are made public and reinvests political representation with the materiality it has been lacking. This book and the ZKM show that it accompanies aims to trigger new political passions and interests in a time when people need more than ever new ways to have their voices heard. BOOK JACKET Thinking the Sculpture Garden Penny Florence, 2020-02-20 This innovative book poses two deceptively simple questions what is a sculpture garden and what happens when you give equal weight to the main elements of landscape planting and artwork. Its wide-ranging frame of reference including the USA Europe and Japan is brought into focus through Tremenhoe Sculpture Garden Cornwall with which the book begins and ends. Effectively less than 15 years old and largely the work of one man Tremenhoe affords an opportunity to examine as work in progress the creation of a new kind of sculpture garden. Including a historical overview the book traverses multiple ways of seeing and experiencing sculpture gardens culminating in an exploration of their relevance as cultural ecology in the context of globalisation urbanisation and climate change The thinking here is non dualist and broadly aligned with New Materialisms and Material Feminisms to explore our place as humans in the non human world on which we depend Eminent contributors including John Dixon Hunt George Descombes Bernard Lassus and David Leatherbarrow approach these issues through practices and theories of landscape architecture garden and art making history and writing and philosophy Richly illustrated with over 100 images including a colour plate section the book will primarily appeal to those engaged in professional or academic research along with sculpture garden visitors who will find new and surprising ways of experiencing plants and art in natural and urban settings
