Monstered Self:

The Monstered Self Eduardo González, 1992 Viewing stories and novels from an ethnographic perspective Eduardo González here explores the relationship between myth ritual and death in writings by Borges Vargas Llosa Cortázar and Roa Bastos He then weaves this analysis into a larger cultural fabric composed of the works of Chaucer Shakespeare Joyce Benjamin H G Wells Kafka Poe and others What interests González is the signature of authorial selfhood in narrative and performance which he finds willfully and temptingly disfigured in the works he examines horrific and erotic subservient and tyrannical charismatic and repellent Searching out the personal image and plot González uncovers two fundamental types of narrative one that strips character of moral choice and another in which characters choices deprive them of personal autonomy and hold them in ritual bondage to a group Thus The Monstered Self becomes a study of the conflict between individual autonomy and the stereotypes of solidarity Written in a characteristically allusive elliptical style and drawing on psychoanalysis religion mythology and comparative literature The Monstered Self is in itself a remarkable performance one that will engage readers in anthropology psychology and cultural history as well as those specifically interested in Latin American narrative

The Wise Men of Greece John Stuart Blackie, 1877 Beyond Individualism Lois Parkinson Zamora, 2026-01-11 A sweeping analysis of archetypal realism in Latin American literature and art Beyond Individualism examines the portrayal of collective identities over two centuries in Latin American literature and visual art Lois Parkinson Zamora shows that many authors and artists are less concerned with singular selves than with selves in relation less with individual autonomy than with communal affiliation Their works sometimes situated under the labels Neobaroque magical realism Surrealism Expressionism and idealism resist the kind of psychological realism typical of European and North American novels moving instead toward a wholly new kind of fiction Zamora calls this new Latin American form archetypal realism because its characters represent entities larger than themselves They may embody entire communities cultures families religious orders
