Marketing Management Cases:

Strategic Marketing Management Cases David W. Cravens, Charles W. Lamb, Victoria L. Crittenden, 1996 Focusing on the major decision making challenges facing marketing managers in the late 1990s this text's cases include a broad range of companies. It reflects marketing management priorities, market orientation, growth strategies and target market strategies.

Case Studies in Marketing Management S. Ramesh Kumar, 2012 Cases in Marketing Management M. L. Bhasin, 2002-10 Marketing is an exciting and dynamic discipline. Unfortunately, much of the excitement is hidden among the definitions and descriptions of concepts that are a necessary part of basic marketing textbooks. We believe that one way to make the study of marketing exciting and dynamic is to use cases. Cases allow the student to work on real marketing problems to develop an appreciation for the types of problems that exist in the real world of marketing and to develop the skills of analysis and decision making so necessary for success in marketing and other areas of business. Cases represent as close an approximation of the realities of actually working in marketing as is possible without taking a job in the field. Your task as a user of this case book is to work hard to develop well-reasoned solutions to the problems confronting the decision maker in each of the cases. A framework to assist you in developing a solution is presented in part one of this book. By applying this framework to each case that you are assigned, you will develop your analytic skills. This book contains 51 cases in marketing with an Indian background. The cases in the book portray marketing situations which are real-life, contextually rich and analytically challenging. The book covers a broad range of marketing problems. Students of business administration management as well as marketing practitioners and trainers for in-company programmes will find the book very useful. Cases in Marketing Management Kenneth L. Bernhardt, Thomas C. Kinnear, 1997 The traditional strengths of this project rest on three main tenets: 1. The strong reputations of the authors; they are those rare breed of academics who maintain high profiles from a research standpoint yet have a fierce dedication and talent for what goes on in the classroom. 2. The quality and diversity of the cases offered; not everyone can write a good case. 3. The first 44 pages of the text that center on orienting the student to the methods and benefits of case-oriented education. Specifics include an orientation chapter, a chapter on analyzing cases, a chapter on marketing financials, and a full case example complete with a sample student analysis of that case. The rest of the book is cases only. Cases in Marketing Management Luiz Moutinho, 1989 Marketing Management Cases William M. Weilbacher, 1975-01-01 Marketing Management Dennis H. Tootelian, Ralph M. Gaedeke, Leete A. Thompson, 1980 Marketing Management Rajiv Lal, John A. Quelch, V. Kasturi Rangan, 2005 Marketing Management Text and Cases 1e includes a new collection of cases from Harvard Business School. HBS sets the standard for effective case writing and teaching and provides here the latest cases in Marketing Management. Marketing Management (Cases) Prentice Hall Higher Education, 1993-07-01 Cases in Advertising and Marketing Management Edd Applegate, Art Johnsen, 2006-10-12 Students of advertising and marketing management learn many concepts and theories in their foundational courses but real world experiences are invaluable to understanding the decision making process Cases in Advertising and Marketing Management offers students the opportunity to apply what they have learned in previous courses to realistic situations from the business world The authors a professor of advertising and an advertising agency executive draw on their practical experiences with everyday challenges ranging from budgets electronic marketing IMC and account strategy to agency politics overdue client payments and ethical dilemmas Each of the forty cases focuses on a contemporary problem or issue for students to identify and analyze followed by discussion questions to help them work through the case toward a reasonable solution The final chapters review important themes from the cases and look at several types of advertising and marketing positions often found in agencies or companies Appropriate for upper level or capstone courses in advertising and marketing management this provocative highly readable text provides students with insight into the situations they will face in their future careers and helps them develop valuable skills for solving problems and making sound decisions

Cases in Strategic Marketing Management William J. McDonald (Ph. D.),1998 Contains 32 comprehensive cases representing a broad range of marketing problems This work asks students to analyze a firm s situation and develop solutions for the problems opportunities and threats confronting marketing decision makers
