Marcy and Her Friends N E C Iankowitz, 2003-02-01 NULL      Creating a New Normal...After the Death of a Child Sandy Fox, 2010-06-11 Creating a New Normal After the Death of a Child will help the newly bereaved as well as the seasoned griever find their way through the darkness and into the light again to a life full of happiness and new meaning Learn a variety of coping and informational skills to help any bereaved parent as they move through the grief process Read up to 80 articles dealing with topics such as anger journaling taking care of yourself making a marriage work childless issues preserving a child's memory grief triggers confronting negative statements workplace grief signs from our children the importance of rituals and many more Identify how to get through the various holidays Read 10 inspirational stories that let you see how others cope Go through grief book descriptions and purchase information Delve into the abundant resource section listing many general and specific support groups web sites and chat rooms Learning to rebuild your life with purpose is what all bereaved parents strive to attain Using the ideas from those who have been there and readjusting them to fit your own situation can give you the practical and emotional support needed Author Sandy Fox was one of three finalists in the Health Death and Dying category of the 7th Annual Best Books 2010 Awards given by USA Book News for my book Creating a New Normal After the Death of a Child USABookNews.com is a premier online publication providing coverage for books from mainstream and independent publishers to the world online community      Lives of Eminent Lawyers and Statesmen of the State of New York Lucien Brock Proctor, 1882      Case Studies in Communication and Disenfranchisement Eileen Berlin Ray, 2013-12-02 See blurb for Communication and Disenfranchisement Books will be promoted together      The Scope and Limits of Partiality Diane Jeske, 2024 The Scope and Limits of Partiality takes as its starting point the fact that we demonstrate partiality toward those to whom we stand in intimate relationships a fact which presents both theoretical and practical challenges At the theoretical level Diane Jeske argues that we have fundamental reasons to care for our intimates but that that fact alone does not justify our practices of partiality This is because we also have fundamental reasons to care for persons in need be they intimates or strangers At the normative level she argues that our intimate relationships be they to other persons or to non human animals add great value to our lives and that public policy ought to acknowledge the great diversity of intimate relationships rather than emphasizing romance and marriage in the way that it does In the theoretical half of the book Jeske defends the relationships view of reasons of intimacy against its primary competitors First Jeske argues that consequentialist attempts to accommodate partiality fail to address the fundamental issues regarding our reasons to care for intimates Second she argues that the main non consequentialist alternatives to the relationships view the projects view and the individuals view fail to present compelling cases against the relationships view In the normative half of the book Jeske offers a detailed picture of the intimate relationship of friendship arguing against views that over intellectualize or romanticize friendship by drawing upon her own lived experience of friendship She then considers our relationships to our companion dogs and cats showing that these relationships are unique sites for intimacy and thus for value Finally she turns to consider how intimacy is treated in the public sphere focusing on the special cultural and legal attention given to marriage and to how we ought to approach our intimate relationships and our reasons to care for our intimates in a highly imperfect world where so many people are deprived of the basic necessities of life The Scope and Limits of Partiality presents a comprehensive account of intimacy and partiality in both theory and reality History of Southbridge Moses Plimpton,1882
