Mark Lewis Films 1995-2000:

Mark Lewis Films 1995-2000 Mark Lewis, 2000 Mark Lewis work functions as a critique of cinema encouraging the viewer's awareness of the clichés, conventions and fragmentary nature of film and how it has been constructed historically. In so doing he also acknowledges its suggestive power and the alluring, seductive visual qualities of the medium whilst maintaining a certain critical distance in his extraction and re-evaluation of its components. This catalogue provides a survey of Lewis' film works from 1995-2000.

Mark Lewis--Cold Morning Mark Lewis, Grant Arnold, Jennifer Couëlle, Leila Buongiorno, 2009. Essays by Grant Arnold et al. French translation Jennifer Couëlle. Italian translation Leila Buongiorno. The Past is the Present, It's the Future Too Christine Ross, 2012-06-28. The term temporality often refers to the traditional mode of the way time is a linear procession of past, present and future. As philosophers will note this is not always the case. Christine Ross builds on current philosophical and theoretical examinations of time and applies them to the field of contemporary art: films, video, installations, sculpture and performance works. Ross first provides an interdisciplinary overview of contemporary studies on time, focusing on findings in philosophy, psychology, sociology, communications, history, postcolonial studies and ecology. She then illustrates how contemporary artistic practices play around with what we consider linear time. Engaging the work of artists such as Guido van der Werve, Melik Ohanian, Harun Farocki and Stan Douglas allows investigation through the art as opposed to having art taking an ancillary role. The Past is the Present, It's the Future Too forces the reader to understand the complexities of the significance of temporal development in new artistic practices.

Mark Lewis Michael Rush, Philippe-Alain Michaud, Laura Mulvey, 2006. Mark Lewis's films are remarkable not only for their rich and highly seductive use of light and color but also for the way in which they pay homage to both classic Hollywood cinema and the avant-garde while remaining outside of both traditions. Mark Lewis is the first book to explore this acclaimed Canadian's art and it features images from several of his works including his most recent piece Rear Projection. This film in particular documents a significant shift in Lewis's practice. Actress Molly Parker, known for her roles in Six Feet Under and Deadwood, is superimposed against the bleak landscape of rural Ontario using the standard Hollywood technique of rear projection. Lewis takes what was for old Hollywood a tool meant to convey seamless realism and foregrounds its essential trickery. Another piece incorporates the dreary backdrops of concrete council flats in the same way. In both settings the film takes on a painterly quality, referencing and restaging traditional portraiture to startling effect. Accompanied by essays by Philippe-Alain Michaud, Laura Mulvey and Michael Rush that place Lewis's work next to that of his contemporaries, Mark Lewis reaches insightful conclusions about the evolving relationship between film, technology, painting and photography.

The People's Pictures James Caterer, 2011-08-08. When John Major launched the UK's National Lottery in 1994 he christened it the people's Lottery and handed it to the mythical stewardship of the Everyman. But when the proceeds began to be distributed to worthy causes including the British film industry this populist rhetoric came under increasing strain If Lottery funding is used to produce the type of British films which the public want to see such as romantic comedies then many question whether the market deserves such subsidy Short films and low budget experimental cinema which often require state support tend to go unwatched by large swathes of the Lottery ticket buying public This book explores the debates which were sparked by the arrival of the people s pictures and places them in historical context by examining their many precedents Is public patronage a boon or a burden for filmmakers And how do institutional cultures or political buzzwords affect the finished films Case studies include the popular hits Billy Elliot 2000 and Shooting Fish 1997 art house releases such as Love Is The Devil 1998 and Gallivant 1997 short films by Lynne Ramsey and David MacKenzie and artists film and video work by Bill Viola and Tracey Emin

Light Readings Chris Darke,2000 Chris Darke assesses whether the last decade of the 20th century was one in which cinema as a medium and collective experience became part of the converging field of multi media and whether we need to consider new possibilities for the moving image

Western Motel Kunsthalle Wien,2008 American painter Edward Hopper once said Maybe I am not very human what I wanted to do was to paint sunlight on the side of a house Indeed Hopper s canvases delineate a new physics of Modern public space in which the zones between people are not charged with responsiveness affection animosity attraction but with absolute indifference Whether alone or grouped Hopper s solitary figures bespeak Modern metropolitan conditions with a clarity that is deepened by his very specific ability to capture architecture interior space and of course light The legacy of this vision coupled with Hopper s unique vocabulary can be seen in the work of numerous artists today who are also featured here Among them are Ed Ruscha Jim Jarmusch Todd Haynes Richard Prince Rachel Whiteread Jeff Wall Markus Schinwald Philip Lorca diCorcia David Claerbout Mark Lewis and Tim Eitel

Film, Theory and Philosophy Felicity Colman,2014-12-05

Philosophy and in particular continental philosophy has provided a conceptual underpinning for cinema since its beginnings especially in the development of cinematic aesthetics In its turn film has rethought the abstractions of space and time and the categories of sex and gender and has created new concepts which illuminate phenomenology metaphysics and epistemology Film and Philosophy brings together leading scholars to provide a detailed overview of the key thinkers who have shaped the field of film philosophy The thinkers include continental and post continental philosophers analytic philosophers film makers film reviewers sociologists and cultural theorists The essays reveal how philosophy can be applied to film analysis and how film can be used to illustrate philosophical problems But more importantly the essays explore how film has shaped what philosophy thinks and how philosophy has lead to a reappraisal of film The book will prove an invaluable reference and guide to readers interested in a deeper understanding of the issues and insights presented by film philosophy Film and Philosophy includes essays on Hugo Munsterberg Vilem Flusser Siegfried Kracauer Theodor Adorno Antonin Artaud Henri Bergson Maurice Merleau Ponty Emmanuel Levinas Andre Bazin Roland Barthes Serge Daney Jean Luc
