Minoan Society Proceedings Of The Cambridge Colloquium 1981:

Minoan Society Olga Krzyszkowska, Lucia Nixon, 1983 Minoan Society Olga Krzyszkowska, Lucia Nixon, 1983

Minoan Society Lucia Nixon, 1983 Minoans Rodney Castleden, 2002-01-04 Thoroughly researched Rodney Castleden's Minoans Life in Bronze Age Crete here uses the results of recent research to produce a comprehensive new vision of the peoples of Minoan Crete Since Sir Arthur Evans rediscovered the Minoans in the early 1900s we have defined a series of cultural traits that make the Minoan personality elegant graceful and sophisticated these nature lovers lived in harmony with their neighbours while their fleets ruled the seas around Crete This at least is the popular view of the Minoans But how far does the later work of archaeologists in Crete support this view Drawing on his experience of being actively involved in research on landscapes processes and prehistory for the last twenty years Castleden writes clearly and accessibly to provide a text essential to the study of this fascinating subject

The Knossos Labyrinth Rodney Castleden, 2012-10-12 Knossos like the Acropolis or Stonehenge is a symbol for an entire culture The Knossos Labyrinth was first built in the reign of a Middle Kingdom Egyptian pharaoh and was from the start the focus of a glittering and exotic culture Homer left elusive clues about the Knossian court and when the lost site of Knossos gradually re-emerged from obscurity in the nineteenth century the first excavators Minos Kalokairinos Heinrich Schliemann and Arthur Evans were predisposed to see the site through the eyes of the classical authors Rodney Castleden argues that this line of thought was a false trail and gives an alternative insight into the labyrinth which is every bit as exciting as the traditional explanations and one which he believes is much closer to the truth Rejecting Evans' view of Knossos as a bronze age royal palace Castleden puts forward alternative interpretations that the building was a necropolis or a temple and argues that the temple interpretation is the most satisfactory in the light of modern archaeological knowledge about Minoan Crete

The Meanings of Things I. Hodder, 2013-11-12 This unique and fascinating book concentrates on the varying roles and functions that material culture may play in almost all aspects of the social fabric of a given culture The contributors from Africa Australia and Papua New Guinea India South America the USA and both Eastern and Western Europe provide a rich variety of views and experience in a worldwide perspective Several of the authors focus on essential points of principle and methodology that must be carefully considered before any particular approach to material culture is adopted One of the many fundamental questions posed in the book is whether or not all material culture is equivalent to documents which can be read and interpreted by the outside observer If it is what is the nature of the messages or meanings conveyed in this way The book also questions the extent to which acceptance and subsequent diffusion of a religious belief or symbol may be qualified by the status of the individuals concerned in transmitting the innovation as well as by the stratification of the society involved Several authors deal with works of art and the most effective means of reaching an understanding of their past significance In some chapters semiotics is seen as the most appropriate technique to apply to the decoding of the assumed rules and grammars of material culture expression Minos, 1994 The Development of the Cypriot Economy Vassos Karageorghis, Dēmētrēs Michaēlidēs, 1996 Mycenaean Civilization Bryan Avery Feuer, 1996 Crete Reclaimed Susan Evasdaughter, 1996

Between about 3000 and 1400 BC one of the world's great civilizations flourished on the island of Crete. The distinctive characteristic of this civilization was that it was dominated by an elite of women. Islands Under Influence Ann-Louise Schallin, 1993 Sailing the Wine-dark Sea Eric H. Cline, 1994. A reissue of Eric H. Cline's highly regarded study of trade in the Late Bronze Age Aegean first published in 1994 and out of print since 2000. The monograph is composed of three principal parts: 1. an analytical section discussing the trade and contacts which occurred between the Aegean, Italy, Egypt and the Near East during the latter half of the second millennium BC and the social, economic and cultural implications of such contacts; 2. first a catalogue of literary and pictorial references to the LBA Aegean found in outside areas, primarily Egypt and the Near East, with transliterations and translations of the appropriate texts and second a compilation of the references to and loanwords from other areas of the Mediterranean found in the Linear B texts in the Aegean; and 3. a catalogue by object type of all the Orientalia and Occidentalia found in LBA contexts within the Aegean area. The monograph utilizes the catalogues in combination with previously published works by a variety of scholars to provide a detailed analysis of the trade and contacts between the LBA Aegean, Italy, Egypt and the Near East. The work is divided into six sections, each consisting of a series of interlinked essays. Section One provides an introduction to the topic, a brief overview of the previous scholarship in this area and a discussion of the chronological problems involved. Section Two consists of an initial chapter discussing LBA trade and contact between the Aegean, Italy, Egypt and the Near East by centuries, followed by chapters discussing trade between the LBA Aegean and individual Mediterranean countries. Section Three contains discussions of the trade mechanisms involved, the trade routes, merchant nationalities, goods, motivations and partnerships, plus a brief look at the Ulu Burun, Kas and Cape Gelidonya shipwrecks. Section Four presents an overview of the conclusions reached by this study and reiterates that the current work presents much raw data and some preliminary observations but is only the tip of the iceberg in terms of tapping the wealth of information which may be extracted from the accompanying catalogues. From Rulers' Dwellings to Temples Alexander Mazarakis Ainiān, 1997 BAR International Series, 1992 Aegean Seals Olga Krzyszkowska, 2005. Although the Corpus der minoischen und mykenischen Siegel (CMS) has been documenting examples of Aegean glyptic since the 1950s, the subject is still a daunting one for non-specialists. Designed with students in mind, this study draws on the CMS data in presenting a general introduction to and synthesis of Aegean seals and sealings set against their cultural and technological background. With lots of photographs and illustrations, Olga Krzyszkowska's study presents the evidence in chronological order from the 3rd millennium BC to the late Bronze Age. Information on dating materials, shapes, techniques, motifs and composition style and seal use is given whilst the text is furnished with examples from across the Aegean world. A large glossary and a user's guide to the CMS are given in the appendices. The Settlement at
