Titus Lucretius Carus

Mirror To Nature:

Philosophy and the Mirror of Nature Richard Rorty, 2008-12-29 When it first appeared in 1979 Philosophy and the Mirror of Nature hit the philosophical world like a bombshell In it Richard Rorty argued that beginning in the seventeenth century philosophers developed an unhealthy obsession with the notion of representation comparing the mind to a mirror that reflects reality Rorty's book is a powerful critique of this imagery and the tradition of thought that it spawned Today the book remains a must read and stands as a classic of twentieth century philosophy Its influence on the academy both within philosophy and across a wide array of disciplines continues unabated This edition includes new essays by philosopher Michael Williams and literary scholar David Bromwich as well as Rorty's previously unpublished essay The Philosopher as Expert Nature as Mirror Stephanie Sorrell, 2011-03-16 Nature as Mirror addresses the natural cycles in our lives and the reflection of our own inner process in nature Basing our psychospiritual development on the model of the tree a symbol of the continuity of life Stephanie Sorrell shows how we may understand the rhythms and cycles of the tree and integrate them into our vision in a conscious way Through the lens of the natural world there is no such thing as death only transformation Once we understand this we can transform our lives by removing mankind's deepest fear of death and non being In this way Nature as Mirror is an ecological guidebook for body mind and soul Nature Sir Norman Lockyer, 1878 Nature, 1879

A Mirror to Nature Jane Yolen, 2019-03-12 Jane Yolen and Jason Stemple join forces again in this new winning combination of poems and photos Water possesses reflective qualities creating fascinating patterns and doubled images that allow us to see things in new ways Celebrated writer Jane Yolen and photographer Jason Stemple capture these natural beauties in twelve thoughtful poems and breathtaking pictures in this winner of the John Burroughs Nature Books for Young Readers Award Watery reflections provide an appropriate backdrop for Jane's musings on nature such as a raccoon swimming with his reflected self the water jagged legs of a snowy egret and the double danger of a hungry alligator at the edge of a swamp Jason's photographs offer whimsical peeks at the natural world we rarely chance to see This artistic collaboration gives readers a unique opportunity to contemplate their world The Mirror Up to Nature Bertram A. Young, 1982 Philosophy and the Mirror of Nature Richard Rorty, 1977 The Book of Nature Friedrich Schoedler, 1870

Piers Plowman and the Books of Nature Rebecca Ann Davis, 2016 Piers Plowman and the Books of Nature explores the relationship of divine creativity poetry and ethics in William Langland's fourteenth century dream vision These concerns converge in the poem's rich vocabulary of kynde the familiar Middle English word for nature broadly construed But in a remarkable coinage Langland also uses kynde to name nature's creator who appears as a character in Piers Plowman The stakes of this representation could not be greater by depicting God as Kynde that is under the guise of creation itself Langland explores the capacity of nature and of language to bear the plenitude of the divine In doing so he advances a daring claim for the spiritual value of literary art including his own searching form of theological poetry This claim challenges recent critical attention to the poem's discourses of disability and failure and reveals the poem's place in a long and diverse tradition of medieval humanism that originates in the twelfth century and indeed points forward to celebrations of nature and natural capacity in later periods By contextualizing Langland's poetics of kynde within contemporary literary philosophical legal and theological discourses Rebecca Davis offers a new literary history for Piers Plowman that opens up many of the poem's most perplexing interpretative problems

The Forces of Nature Amédée Guillemin, 1873

A Mirror to Nature Rose A. Zimbardo, 2014-07-15 In this provocative study Rose Zimbardo examines a crucial revolution in aesthetics that took place in the late seventeenth century and that to this day dominates our response to literature Although artists of that time continued to follow the precept imitate nature that nature no longer corresponds to the earlier understanding of the term What had been in essence an allegorical mode came to be a literal one Focusing on the drama of the period as an exemplary form Zimbardo shows how it moved from depicting a metaphysical reality of idea to portraying an inner reality of individual experience But drama is constrained in expressing the inner experience since its medium is limited to human action The novel arose to replace drama as the popular literary form Zimbardo argues because it could better and more freely convey man's inner world and thereby imitate the new nature The study concluded that the changes which took place in drama during this period and which led to the invention of the novel resulted not from any change of heart or sensibility but from a fundamental change in the understanding of the nature which art was thought to imitate Neither the drama of the 1690s nor the early novel Zimbardo finds was in the least sentimental A Mirror to Nature brings a new critical perspective to bear on literary developments at the end of the seventeenth century one that must be considered by critics and historians of the period

Original Innocence Traktung Yeshe Dorje, 2020-09-23 With the directness of a farmer naming the crops in his fields Traktung Yeshe Dorje farmer mystic scholar and poet points out that transformation and enlightenment are possible for each person They are the soil out of which our lives have sprouted and are not separate from the ground of the spiritual path itself Original innocence not original sin is the intrinsic condition of the human mind the author asserts He is not alone in this declaration Great mystics and sages who have discovered the essence of reality have also proclaimed original innocence While their words and the flowering of this realization may have taken different expressions the essence remains the same This is good news for the weary traveler lost in samsara confused perception This confused perception is like that of a person with mental illness who thinks themselves to be Napoleon or an anorexic who perceives themselves as fat Such a complex of thought feeling behavior thus influences everything they do And so samsara brings suffering to one's life Essays quotes from seminal texts poetry and teaching stories weave throughout these pages creating a rich meal that any serious student of life can enjoy and be nourished by The book is a hologram of spiritual teachings each page a blueprint an invitation and an immersion into the spaciousness of the author's realization From the highest most advanced teachings to the core beginnings the 4 Noble Truths of the Buddha nothing is at odds All work together to illuminate a vision for transforming life from suffering to wisdom bliss The Nature of Light
